HAD BEEN STRUGGLING FOR LIFE

Rescue of Twenty Living From the Cherry Mine Saturday Had Buoyed Up Rescuers

Cherry, Ill., Nov. 24.—Bodies of at least 150 miners were found in the west level of the St. Paul mine today.

The bodies were found 500 feet from the main shaft on an elevated surface, where they had retreated before the advancing water and fatal black damp. They had not been able to escape the latter and had died after a struggle that may have continued for two days.

Messages scrawled on the wood and natural slate cropping from the walls placed the number of dead at 160 or 168.

There to Die Together.

One message read:

"We are all here to die together."

This is accepted by mine officials as indicating that many men, whose escape from the second vein had been cut off by fire had descended to the lower level and that less than a dozen bodies will be found in other sections of the mine.

To take out the bodies today a skiff has been brought from the Illinois river, seven miles away, and will be lowered 560 feet to the vein in which the bodies were found. It will be rowed across the four feet of water in the vein to the spot where the bodies lie and they will be transported to the main shaft for removal to the surface.

Exploring Party Goes In.

The exploring party of four, led by Anton Lodiycieni, were in the gallery for more than an hour before the bodies were found. They had waded in water waist deep, through the circular tunnel, making their way toward the elevation of the shaft or "ridge" where they had expected to find the men living or dead. The signals given by the rescuers and the usual cry, "Anybody alive in here?" were not answered.

"When we climbed up on the ridge," said Lodiycieni, "we almost stepped upon the bodies piled up on top of each other in heaps. Some had their heads resting on folded arms as if sleeping. Others were lying across each other and some were sitting as if resting against the wall.

"Nailed to the wall were two fans made of timbering tied about pick handles and under them were the biggest heaps of bodies.

"One poor fellow had his hand up holding the fan. I think he died as he was turning it. Another had a bucket held in his hand. He was flat on his back and must have died as he climbed up on the ridge. The bucket was half filled with black water that he must have gone some distance to get.

Killed by Black Damp.

"The black damp surely killed them long before the water reached them. We had been in the shaft more than an hour then and the air was fairly good. We knew it was time for us to get out.

"We did not stop to examine any of the bodies or try to identify them, although we probably could have if we had had more time. Tom Mulligan, one of the party, picked up a piece of natural slate on which was written: "'We are here together, 168.'

"That must have meant the number of men and I think that was about the right number. He put the slate in his pocket without trying to make out the name on it, but as we climbed to the shaft to the second level it fell out of his pocket.

"On a wooden box used to hold tools I saw written with a lead pencil, 'We are here to die together.' Some figures were scratched under it and I read it as 160, but I'm not sure as the writing was wavering as if it had been written by someone who was mighty weak."

Reversing of Fans Fatal.

No evidence that the men had attempted to barricade themselves from the black damp was seen. Many of the former workers in the mine protested angrily after they discovered that the men would have been safe from the deadly gas had not the ventilating fan of the mine been reversed shortly after the discovery of fire.

They assert that the men had retreated to the bridge, where under ordinary conditions the noxious gas would not have reached them and believing themselves in no danger, merely had fortified themselves against hunger, thirst and the supposedly lesser danger of gas that naturally would be generated after a few days of imprisonment.

The fans fashioned by them, they assert, would have dispelled this gas which would have formed in small quantities and would have given the men enough fresh air to sustain them for weeks.

With the reversing of the fan, they assert, the deadly gas forming in the second gallery and creeping out of the escape shaft was hurled back into the lower level and the men strangled before they had opportunity to seek pockets or erect protection against it.

Machinists Will Not Go In.

The announced intention of mine officials to pump out the water in the lower level before the arrival of the skiff was balked by the refusal of machinists to aid them. The connections of the pump have been disconnected near the second level. Machinists who were called upon declined to risk their lives in repairing the machinery.

Robert Shaw, a third member of the exploring party that found the bodies, told of reading a piece of slate on which one of the victims had checked off the totals of the groups who clambered upon the ridge in their last stand for life. The writing remembered by him was:

Other figures which were not totalled on the written tally, but hastily computed by Shaw indicated that the number exceeded 150 when the tally ended.

Driven Out By Rising Water.

"I think some of the men had barricaded themselves in pockets in the gallery, but were driven to the ridge by the rising water," said Shaw. "If they had not got out of the pockets they would have been drowned in them."

Shaw also told of an attempt of the men to build a barricade at the west end of the ridge to hold back the black damp.

The wall was only a few feet high, the builders apparently having abandoned the attempt or being overcome by gas before it had afforded them any protection.

WANT BETTER MINING LAWS.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 24.—A delegation of officers of the Illinois Federation of Labor and the Illinois Miners' union were before Governor Deneen this afternoon to urge the placing in the call for the special session of the legislature amendments to the state mining laws which shall provide for fire extinguisher apparatus in each mine and the doing away of inflammable material for timbering in places which are exposed to fir

TROOPS ASKED FOR BY SHERIFF AT BEDFORD

Appeals to Governor, Fearing Strike Disorders Will Get Acute.

Indianapolis, Nov. 24.—Governor Marshall received a request from John H. Todd, sheriff of Lawrence county, that troops be sent to Bedford. He said bad conditions prevailed there in the quarrymen's strike and he was only able to get seven deputies, not enough to handle the situation.

Governor Marshall told the sheriff he must have call for his troops approved by the judge of the circuit court. In the meantime the governor had Adjutant General Perry notify the captain of Company H, First regiment, at Bloomington, to hold his troops in readiness to go to Bedford.

There are about 2,000 men on a strike in stone quarries at Bedford.

RIVAL UNIONS THE CAUSE.

Bedford, Ind., Nov. 24.—Dissension between two organizations of stone cutters is the cause of the trouble in the stone quarries here. The striking union cutters assert that the owners of the quarries made an agreement to employ members of the national society. These workmen, the strikers say, are "strike-breakers," and their arbitration board of eleven members is in control of the quarry owners. There have been frequent clashes between the factions and the increasing bitterness of feeling today influenced the sheriff to ask the governor for the help of the militia to prevent a riot.

INVADING THE SHAFT AT CHERRY, ILL., TO FIGHT THE FIRE.

COLORED BEAST IS BULLET-RIDDLED AND BURNED

Anniston, Ala., Nov. 24.—After repeated criminal assaults on Mrs. W. C. Cheatwood, wife of a farmer living near Edwardsville, Ray Rolston a negro, was hunted down by a posse of citizens yesterday and after being riddled with shot, the body was burned. Mrs. Cheatwood is in a critical condition.

According to reports received here the negro went to the Cheatwood home and battering down the door, seized Cheatwood, saying "We've got you now and we're going to kill you." Cheatwood escaped and fled through the woods to arouse his neighbors. While the husband was absent Rolston attacked Mrs. Cheatwood. The negro then dragged his victim by her hair to the woods near by and repeated the assault after beating her over the head with sticks and rocks. He also choked her.

The negro went to sleep and Mrs. Cheatwood crawled back to her home. A posse quickly found the negro, riddled his body with bullets and burned it.

Cheatwood's three small children fled from the house when the negro entered. It had been raining and was cold and they were exhausted when found several hours later.

CITY IN READINESS FOR A HOLIDAY TOMORROW

Thanksgiving Day Will be Widely Observed Here as Usual.

Fort Wayne is in readiness for Thanksgiving day tomorrow, and in conformity with custom the holiday will be widely observed in this city. The promise of the weather man for the day is partly cloudy and warmer.

Schools, both public and parochial, closed this afternoon for the holiday vacation, and the public schools will not resume their sessions until Monday. The Catholic and the Lutheran schools will take up their work Friday morning as usual.

There will be a practically complete cessation of business in the city tomorrow, and the public will give itself over to worship, feasting, family reunion and various amusements usual on the Thanksgiving holiday. The public institutions will provide elaborate Thanksgiving dinners for the inmates, in order that they may share in the spirit of the national holiday.

EDITOR FACES JAIL.

Illinois Man Is Found Guilty of Criminal Libel.

Mt. Vernon, Ill., Nov. 24.—Ora F. Havhill, editor of a daily newspaper at Mt. Carmel, Ill., will move his sanctum to the county jail for sixty days unless the appellate court intervenes with the sentence passed upon him today in the circuit court by Judge W. H. Green, of this city. Havhill, who was found guilty of criminal libel, announced that he will edit his paper from his cell unless the appeal to the higher court proves effective in securing his release.

FRANK BENOY NAMED AS CHAIRMAN OF BOARD

Frank F. Benoy will be chairman of the board of public works. This announcement was given out by Mayor-elect Jesse Grice during the day in spite of the fact that it was generally believed that as Henry Hilgemann was first on the list furnished the newspapers that the choice would fall upon him.

FRANK F. BENOY,

Designated for Chairman of the Board of Public Works.

As a general rule Mr. Grice's appointments seem to be satisfactory. It is not a difficult matter to pick out a sore spot here and there as there were naturally some disappointment, but these would have existed no matter who had gotten the appointments, and they were expected. One genuine surprise was the appointment of W. D. Henderson to the safety board. He was not an applicant for the place and he said last night that he knew nothing of his selection until he was notified of it.

One man who received a lot of congratulations on his retention in office was Henry W. Becker, who will be clerk of the board of public works. Mr. Becker attends strictly to business, is familiar with the details of his work and his appointment was because of his ability and his knowledge of things generally in the office of the board.

D. O. MILLS RETURNS.

San Francisco, Nov. 24.—D. O. Mills, the veteran banker and philanthropist, arrived at his country home at Millbrae, San Mateo county, last night, accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Whitelaw Reid, wife of the United States ambassador. They traveled in Mr. Mills' private car from New York. Mr. Mills said that he had come to spend the winter in California and that his health was good.

THE WEATHER.

Washington, Nov. 24.—Forecast for Indiana: Partly cloudy and warmer tonight and Thursday.

Lower Michigan: Unsettled weather; rain or snow tonight or Thursday; warmer tonight in south portion; warmer Thursday.

Ohio: Partly cloudy tonight and Thursday with slowly rising temperature.

Illinois: Partly cloudy tonight and Thursday; rising temperature.

INSANITY THE PLEA OF SLAYER OF WILLIS

Murderer of Indianapolis Man on Trial at Little Rock, Ark.

Little Rock, Ark., Nov. 24.—The hearing of testimony in the case of W. Y. Ellis, a prominent lumber man, charged with the killing of N. P. Willis, a business man of Indianapolis Ind., began today. The defense will contend that Ellis, although previous and subsequent to the killing was perfectly rational, for the time being was insane and irresponsible for his actions. This condition, it is contended was brought about by alleged persecution by Mrs. Ellis, formerly Mrs. Willis, in connection with litigation instituted by Willis in an effort to secure the custody of their six year old daughter.

Because of the prominence of the principals, the case is attracting unusual attention, and the court room was crowded today.

The empanelling of the jury was completed late yesterday after two days' examination of talesmen and the exhaustion of several venires. The twelve jurors finally accepted are all long residents of Arkansas and with the exception, of southern birth. Eleven are married.

SAYS THEY HAVEN'T PUT A DOLLAR IN FIGHT

S. B. Fleming Issues Sizzling Hot Denial of DeKalb County Story.

S. B. Fleming, of this city, today issued a sizzling hot denial of the story emanating from Indianapolis to the effect that the brewery interests had dumped a slush fund of $15,000 into DeKalb county in the effort to carry the county for the "wets" at the coming local option election there.

"I brand the story as absolutely false," said Mr. Fleming. "I am president of the Association of Indiana Breweries, and I will give $5,000 to the 'dry' cause in DeKalb county if they can show where we have put a dollar into the fight in DeKalb county."

The report to which Mr. Fleming alludes was telegraphed from Indianapolis in a statement credited to George E. Hicks, of the Anti-Saloon League.

BURGLARS GOT LITTLE.

Nothing of Great Value Taken From Home of Secretary Knox.

Philadelphia, Nov. 24.—So far as can be learned nothing of great value was taken from the home of Secretary of State Philander C. Knox at Valley Forge when it was broken into by burglars last Thursday night. The fact that a burglary had been committed was withheld from the public by the police of Montgomery county. The secretary and Mrs. Knox were in Washington and the house had been closed for the winter.

Before closing the house for the winter the family took the usual precautions against fire and burglars and all valuables have been removed.

COOK'S RECORDS ARE COMPLETED

COOK'S SECRETARY WILL BE MESSENGER

Report Accompanying the Records a Voluminous Document.

New York, Nov. 24.—The records which Dr. Frederick A. Cook, the arctic explorer, will submit to the University of Copenhagen in proof of his claim that he reached the north pole on April 21, 1908, are today in completed form and ready for the scrutiny to which the university authorities will subject them.

Walter Lonsdale, secretary to Dr. Cook will sail tomorrow on the steamer United States of the Scandinavian line, for Copenhagen, taking the records with him. Mr. Lonsdale said today that the task of arranging the original records and compiling the report upon them had occupied several weeks. Dr. Cook's report, he said, contained between 25,000 and 30,000 words.

Secretary Explains.

"I don't think that the general public understands the work that we have been doing" continued Mr. Lonsdale. "It has been said that we were 'preparing such records.' Such a statement is inaccurate. The original records go to the university just as they were made by Dr. Cook in the arctic regions. What we have been preparing is the report to accompany them."

Mr. Lonsdale said he expected to reach Copenhagen Dec. 2 and would immediately place the records in the hands of the university.

"How long the university will take in examining them and making known its findings, of course I cannot tell," he continued. "I should assume that it would be possible for the university's announcement to be made by the new year holidays."

What precautions had been or would be taken to guard the records enroute Mr. Lonsdale did not care to reveal.

TELEPHONE MEN GET TOGETHER IN A CONFERENCE

Seeking to fortify themselves against possible changes which might involve other Indiana and Ohio companies to the detriment of their relations with independent long distance lines in this territory, representatives of Second district independent companies with long distance connections were in conference in Fort Wayne today.

The meeting was held at the offices of the Home Telephone company, and W. L. Moellering, president of the Second district, was in the chair. It was stated that the purpose, in addition to mutual protection against any possible attempt to jeopardize present working arrangements by interests inimical to the independents, was to secure a closer working arrangement, and the filling in of existing gaps by the construction of additional toll lines.

Representing the Fort Wayne Home company in the conference were Manager W. L. Moellering, Martin Umbach, who is secretary of the district, and Frank E. Bohn. The visiting telephone men were entertained at luncheon at the Anthony at noon.

Among the out-of-town telephone men at the meeting were F. E. Schirmeyer, of Decatur; Manager Pogue, of Columbia City; H. E. Wilder, of Angola; T. E. Ellison, representing Lagrange county companies; George Spake, of Monroeville, and Secretary Patton, of the United company at Bluffton.

TOBIN GOES TO ST. LOUIS.

Will Be Leading Man at Imperial Theater in That City.

Frank Tobin is the first of the members of Our Own Stock company to connect up with another theatrical organization following the announcement of the disbanding of Manager Rice's players at the close of next week's engagement. Mr. Tobin has been engaged as leading man in the stock company at the Imperial theater in St. Louis at an advance over his Fort Wayne salary. Mr. Tobin was with the Imperial organization last season and the management has been for some time endeavoring to secure his signature to another contract.

The cast of "Charley's Aunt" does not require the presence of Mr. Tobin, and Manager Rice has arranged to release him at the close of the run of "Sag Harbor" Friday evening, in order that he may take up his St. Louis engagement Monday.

Mrs. M. L. Cosper, of 237 West Main street, has gone to Lagrange to spend Thanksgiving with her parents, and while there will participate in the celebration of her father's eightieth birthday anniversary.

BREWERS OPEN A WAR ON SALOONS

Opening Wedge Entered in Case Against Martin Piatt.

GUNS PRIMED IN THE BIG BATTLE

Have Come Out in the Open and Will Wage Hot Warfare.

Local brewers entered into the fight against objectionable saloons and unfit saloon keepers this morning when they employed attorneys to assist in preventing Martin Piatt from obtaining a license to conduct a saloon in the rolling mill district and the announcement was made that where it has been the custom heretofore to get remonstrances filed by disinterested parties and fight from ambush the beer manufacturers will hereafter come out in the open and wage their own warfare.

Piatt has had a fight on for some time and a salesman foral ocal brewery time and a salesman for a local brewery Piatt applied to him to sell his beer but that after an investigation he did not think Piatt was the right sort of a man to conduct a saloon and he refused him. Then Piatt made an alliance with an outside brewery and the fight was started.

The salesman wanted it understood that the fight is not against the sale of beer that is not made in Fort Wayne but is the beginning of an honest crusade to eliminate men who are not regarded as desirable saloonkeepers. The case was continued at noon until Friday afternoon when new evidence will be injected and an effort made to have Attorney Hugh G. Keegan, who is sitting as special judge, refuse a license and uphold the board of county commissioners who declined to grant one.

Sprung a Sensation.

Judge R. B. Dreibelbiss, who is looking after Platt's interests, tried to work a sensation into the hearing this morning when he asked a witness if he had not stated before he went on the stand that he had been offered $40 by the brewery salesman to testify that he had seen Piatt intoxicated and to try to prove him unfit to be entrusted with a license.

The witness denied this emphatically and said that he had been duly summoned and had made no attempt to force his evidence into the hearing. One of the charges made is that Platt is endeavoring to get a license for Zach Hoisen, who formerly was in the business in the rolling mill district but who is under the ban and unable to obtain a license.

Leonard and Townsend were secured by the brewers to assist William Fruechtenicht and only got into the case in earnest this morning and they are looking up additional evidence and the continuance was taken to give them an opportunity to get it.

Coming Out in Open.

"I have thought for some time," said the brewery salesman today, "that we had just as well come out and make this fight and get rid of these objectionable fellows. They hurt the business more than anything else. We hesitated in this case because the man expects to sell outside beer, but that is not the reason we are trying to keep him from getting a license.

"It's another case like the Young matter. He applied for a license in the rolling mills district and the county commissioners refused to grant it. The case was heard in Adams county and the board was overruled. Now, I understand, Young is working in the

SAY IT WILL DRIVE MORE PEOPLE TO SALOONS

Local Brewing Interests Unwilling to Discuss Court's Ruling.

Beyond an expression of the belief that it will result in driving more people to the saloons to make their purchases through those agencies instead of from the breweries direct, local brewing interests are not inclined to discuss the ruling of the supreme court which upholds the Beardsley law prohibiting the sale of beer or other intoxicants by wholesalers to any others than regularly licensed retailers.

Fort Wayne breweries have for many years done an extensive business in what is termed "family trade" —the delivery of beer in case lots by the breweries directly to the consumer in his home. One of the local brewing officials said he was not prepared to express an opinion on the effect of the new ruling, but he did not personally believe the law or its upholding would in point of fact lessen the consumption of liquors. It might, he said, compel the consumer to get his supplies in a more round-about way, ordering through the saloons instead of from the breweries direct, but he doubted its efficacy as a temperance measure.

It was also stated that there had as yet been no action taken by the Fort Wayne breweries with reference to the decision.

WILL SUPPLY LIGHT TO DELPHI, 95 MILES AWAY

Carroll County Town Will Use Current from Fort Wayne.

The city council at Delphi Tuesday evening granted to the Fort Wayne and Wabash Valley Traction company a franchise under which the county seat of Carroll county will be supplied with electric current for lighting and power from the Fort Wayne station, ninety-five miles distant.

The franchise is a fifty-year grant, and the rate is the same as prevails in Fort Wayne—10 cents per kilowatt. The Fort Wayne company will not embark in street lighting at Delphi, but will confine its business to the supplying of commercial light and power, and will give a twenty-four hour service. The street lighting at Delphi is at present supplied by a small company on a Philadelphia moonlight schedule, and the Fort Wayne company will compete with the local company for the commercial business of the town.

The work of making connections will begin at once, and until the new station at Lafayette, some fifteen miles west of Delphi, is completed, all the current for Delphi will be supplied from the Fort Wayne station.

rolling mills and is getting $20 a month for the use of his name by a man whom the board turned down."

There was no remonstrance filed against Platt. The board concluded that he was not entitled to a license and just simply declined to give him one. An appeal was taken to the circuit court and as Judge O'Rourke had ruled in another case that the board had the right to refuse a license even where a remonstrance was not filed, a change of venue was taken and Judge Heaton was appointed to try the case.

Before it was submitted he called Platt's attorney and told him that in his opinion the county commissioners had more than a mere clerical duty to perform in issuing licenses and that their right to refuse an applicant ought to be sustained, and that while he did not want to shirk the duty of making a decision he wanted the applicant to know just how he stood. Then the case went to Attorney Keegan, who has had two rounds with it.

ZEBU FOR FLESH FOOD.

France is Considering a Substitute for Beef.

Paris, Nov. 24.—The colonial authorities have inaugurated a serious attempt to introduce in the French market the Zubus of Madagascar as a substitute for beef. The first batch of a dozen carcasses sold in the Paris stalls brought the prices of the highest grade of cattle. Larger shipments are now on the way here.

M. Carraoguea, the manager of the government stud in Madagascar, is enthusiastic over the new project. He says that the herds of Zebus, otherwise known as Indian oxen, which have been threatened with extermination, are now being rapidly restored and that probably 4,500,000 head roam the plateaus of Madagascar. He describes the meat of the Zebus as savory and nutritious and the equal of beef. He anticipates an annual importation in Europe of from 150,000 to 200,000 carcasses.

TO INITIATE BIG CLASS.

Ben Hur court, No. 15, will initiate a big class of applicants next Friday night. The members of the famous degree team of four years ago have consented to perform the degree work Friday evening and they have been holding rehearsals with that object in view. This team in its personnel included Mesdames Chris Craig and Mary A. Clark, George and Charles Ashley, A. S. Coverdale and James A. Foster, who made it famous by the manner in which they carried the parts assigned them. It was, in its day, the best Ben Hur degree team in the country.

CABLES HAVE BEEN RESTORED.

Wire Communication With West Indies Established.

New York, Nov. 24.—That part of the West Indian zone which has been out of cable touch with the world since the hurricane of Nov. 7 is again in wire communication with the United States and Europe. The cable companies reported today that communication with all West Indian stations has been re-established.

For over two weeks Porto Rico and points in Hayti and the islands to the eastward have been isolated from the world by broken cables, which are believed to have been parted by disturbances on the sea floor accompanying the hurricane.

ADDIE WATERS ASKS $40 A MONTH OF HUSBAND

Says He Compelled Her to Leave Home and She Has No Money.

Addie Waters has entered a suit in the superior court in which she demands $40 a month of her husband, Wesley Waters for support, alleging that she was compelled on account of cruel treatment to leave him and that he owns property worth $15,000 and has an income of $2,000 a year.

They were married March 28, 1908, and she states that she lived with him until the following October and since that time has been dependent upon relatives for her living. The records show that their marriage was the third venture for both and that prior to the time they became man and wife he had been once divorced and she had her marriage bonds severed twice by the courts.

She alleges that after the wedding he moved from the city to his farm, where he made her work in the fields and about the house performing labor that she had never been used to. She also accuses him of having abused and sworn at her and states that he refused to have her son by a former marriage visit her. It is charged that his abuse drove her from home and that he published a notice through the newspapers warning merchants against extending her credit. Emrick & Emrick are her attorneys.

Charges Abandonment.

Emma C. Gaskins has filed a divorce suit against Charles E. Gaskins in which she charges that a short time after their marriage in 1905 he abandoned her and has not made any provision for her support. Emrick & Emrick filed the suit.

Gorrell Files Suit.

A suit that has long been anticipated was filed in the circuit court when Dr. Don Gorrell, of Payne, Ohio, instituted action against Joseph H. Gustin, William Garnhart, William Keller, John Eby, Henry Chapman, Edward Mosier, John R. Yaggy and J. Frank Butt to recover a reward of $1,675 which they hold as trustees to be paid for the conviction of the murderers of Marshal Columbus Croy.

Some time ago Dr. Gorrell applied to the county commissioners for the payment of a reward of $500 they had offered, but the board decided that it would be wise to have him establish his right to the money in a court before paying it and told him so. The suit is brought for the purpose of giving a legal right to the fund held at Woodburn, which was subscribed by the citizens, and the money offered by the county.

Three men accused of the crime, which was committed June 7, 1907, have been found guilty and Fred LaDuke, who confessed, is in the county jail, where he has been for almost two years. Barrett & Morris and Leonard & Townsend filed the suit.

ACTRESS BURNED TO DEATH.

Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 24.—Miss Florence Bishop, 60 years old, formerly a popular actress, was found burned to death in the rear of a smoke house at the home of her employer, W. A. Haviland, near Lockport today. It is suspected that she may have committed suicide.

LOUISVILLE POLITICIAN SLAIN.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 24.—William E. Proctor, republican candidate for city auditor in the recent election, was shot and fatally wounded today by R. M. Culley. Culley claims that Proctor insulted his wife. Proctor died without regaining consciousness.

AMERICANS HELD IN PRISON BY THE TYRANT

New Orleans, La., Nov. 24.—A cablegram from Panama says that Edward Harris, of Columbus, Ohio, an American commercial traveler, who has been touring Central America declares that several Americans are in jail at Managua and other places in Nicaragua, having been arrested on orders from Zelaya. Every American in Nicaragua who refused to contribute to the war fund levied by Zelaya was promptly arrested and thrown into prison, Harris says.

A few of the Americans arrested bought their way out of jail by paying the price demanded but a number are still held incommunicado. Harris says it is unsafe for an American to appear in the section of Nicaragua controlled by Zelaya. He himself was subjected to jibes and insults at Corinto and left the place on the first available steamer.

AIDING REVOLUTIONISTS.

Porte Costas, Spanish Honduras, Nov. 19.—Via New Orleans, Nov. 24.—Telegraphic advices today from Managua say it is believed in Nicaragua that the government authorities in Port Limon, Costa Rica, and former President Raafael Iglesias and his following have aided the Nicaraguan revolutionists. This came from a high official of Nicaragua, who said this aid had been stopped through the petitions of the charge d'affaires of Nicaragua at the Costa Rica capital, backed Ricardo Jiminez, a Costa Rican presidential nominee, and his party. The representations of the Nicaraguan charge are said to have caused the concentration of forty-three soldiers captured from the rebel army at La-Colorado. These prisoners were to be taken to San Jose, Costa Rica, but were rescued and set free by their companions in the rebel army.

EXCITEMENT AMONG ADMIRALS.

Washington, Nov. 24.—There is great excitement among the rear admirals of the navy. Now comes along the first international rumpus in which the United States has figured in years, and it is with Nicaragua, a country entirely too weak to permit them to fight with dignity and self-respect. Probably the nearest rear admirals will get to the "scene of activity," in event there should be any trouble, will be Washington. A lot of them are here now. Officers of the rank of commander would be in command of the little ships that would be employed against Nicaragua.

NEW SMALLPOX CASE.

Louis C. Scherer, whose house was just recently relieved of a quarantine, is suffering from smallpox and a card was again put up on his dwelling today. He lives at 1232 Oak street. Donald Lewis, of the White apartments, is suffering from scarlet fever.

Washington, Nov. 24.—A driving snow storm, the first of the season, set in here today shortly after 9 o'clock. The flakes melted rapidly, however, and there was no especial interruption in traffic.

Winchester, Va., Nov. 24.—Snow has been falling in northern Virginia since early today and the indications are for a "white" Thanksgiving. Much of the corn crop is still in the fields.

SUFFRAGETTES GET JAIL FOR ROUGH HOUSE WORK

Women Who Threw Acid in Polling Place to Spend Six Months in Cell.

London, Nov. 24.—Mrs. Alice Chapin, the militant suffragette who injured a polling clerk at the Bermondsey by-election when she smashed a bottle containing corrosive acid upon a ballot box was sentenced in the Old Bailey police court today to seven months imprisonment. She was convicted upon two charges, three months of her punishment being given for the offense of irnterfering with a ballot box and the balance of the term for assault upon a polling clerk.

Miss Alison Neilans, who made a similar attempt to express suffragette sentiment at the by-election but with less serious consequences also was convicted and sentenced to three months imprisonment.

FELL TWENTY FEET.

Fort Wayne Man Severely Injured at Wapakoneta.

Charles Swain suffered internal injuries, had three rigs broken and received numerous bruises on the body by a fall from the caboose steps of a C. H. & D. train near Wapakoneta Monday night. He is a new brakeman, and not being familiar with the surroundings, stepped from the caboose onto the ends of the ties on a bridge, supposing he was on land, and fell to the bottom of the Auglaize river, a distance of twenty feet. He was taken to Lima and is now in the hospital in that city. Swain formerly resided in Fort Wayne and was employed at the mills of Perrine-Armstrong & Company, boarding with his father, George Swain, a plasterer, at 1906 Pine street. He resigned a position at the saw mills a few weeks ago and has since been employed as a freight brakeman on the C. H. & D., running in and out of Lima.

SIX PERISHED IN FLAMES.

Holocaust Attends Burning of a Brooklyn Tenement House.

New York, Nov. 24.—At least six persons were burned to death and ten seriously injured in a fire which swept through a tenement house in Havens Place, Brooklyn, before daylight today. When the fire had been controlled, a search of the house revealed six bodies, most of them burned beyond recognition. They were those of two women, one man and three children, the latter apparently between the ages of 2 and 4 years. Another woman is missing and she may have been consumed in the flames.

WOMAN HELD OF SOUND MIND.

Case Against Mrs. McFarland at Wapakoneta Fails.

Wapakoneta, Ohio, Nov. 24.—After a hearing in the probate court today, Mrs. Lillian McFarland at whose home Miss Nellie Harris died October 23 from arevolver wound, was adjudged not insane, and the proceedings were dismissed. Clifford Blair, court stenographer, could relate no specific instances to substantiate his affidavit. A physician who treated Mrs. McFarland for nervousness, testified that she is not only sane, but an unusually strong-minded woman.

TELEPHONE MERGER TO HIT ROCKS IN COURT

Recent Combine Brings on Attack—Ohio May Take Hand in Fight.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 24.—Following the institution of injunction suits in St. Louis and Cleveland to prevent the dissolution of the voting trust agreement, under which the United States Telephone company and the Cleveland, Indianapolis and Toledo Telephone companies are prohibited from merging with any other corporations, Sam B. Jeffries, counsel for the minority stockholders of those corporations, announced today that they will the appointment of a commissioner to take the testimony of George W. Perkins, a member of the banking house of J. P. Morgan.

Theodore Vail, president of the American Telegraph and Telephone company; R. W. Day, Edward Hall, United States Senator Murray Crane, of Massachusetts, representatives of the New York banking firm of Harvey Fisk & Sons and others identified with the new telephone and telegraph merger, also may be summoned.

The testimony of these men, according to Mr. Jeffries, is expected to show that the American Telephone and Telegraph company has obtained control of the four independent companies, which operate chiefly in Ohio, Indiana and Michigan and connect at Indianapolis with the long distance service of the Kinlich Telephone company, of St. Louis.

M. Jeffries is preparing a communication to the attorney general of Ohio, calling attention to the alleged merger and asking that proceedings be filed against the American Telephone and Telegraph company under the laws of that state.

"We have already ascertained that Wall street brokers have been quietly buying the voting certificates of the independent telephone companies," said Mr. Jeffries.

"The certificates are held by the Mississippi Valley Trust company, of St. Louis, and the Cleveland Trust company as trustees for the stockholders, and they have been joined as defendants in the injunction proceedings."

Mr. Jeffries referred to depositions of Peter Doerr, cashier of the Lafayette bank; A. H. Bauer, a St. Louis broker, and J. Virilng, of the trust department of the Mississippi Valley Trust company, regarding the sale of voting certificates of the United States Telephone company.

This testimony, taken before Special Commissioner Bates, showed that certificates representing 1,000 shares of stock of the United States Telephone company, had been transferred to R. L. Day & Co., of New York, representatives of the American Telegraph and Telephone company, and that another lot of 1,375 shares held by Doerr was delivered to James Brailey in Wall street, New York. Doerr declares he could not remember at which office in New York he delivered the stock to Brailey.

SUITS TO TEST THE VALIDITY OF THE ROAD BONDS

State Auditor Urges State Financial Concerns to Become Busy.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 24.—In a circular letter issued by John C. Billheimer, auditor of state, and sent out to all the state, private and savings banks and trust companies of the state, the auditor urges that suits be instituted at once to test the validity of bonds issued by counties for the construction of township gravel roads under the act of 1905, recently declared unconstitutional by the supreme court in instances where the work for which the bonds were issued is uncompleted. The auditor admits that there is some question as to these bonds, and urges early action in order to set at rest all doubt as to the collateral.

Th eauditor further states that he will continue to consider all bonds issued under the act as good assets of the banks under his control as auditor, as he believes the county treasuries are liable for the redemption of all such paper, whether roads have been built or not.

Dr. George Gillie, of the city health department, returned from a point near the state line today, where he put three herds of sheep under state quarantine. They are suffering from a skin disease called the scabies. This is curable by dipping, but the weather is too cold and they will be kept under quarantine until spring. The sheep were bought outside of the state.

WAKES PURCHASE ON CALHOUN STREET FOR $10,000

S. M. Foster Buys Property and Will Improve It Next Spring.

Samuel M. Foster has just purchased from E. L. Craw 32½ feet of Calhoun street realty, located on the west side of the street, twenty feet north of Lewis street, for a consideration of $10,000. The property also includes an eight-foot entrance from Lewis street on the south.

The lot is at present occupied by small buildings of little value, occupied by the Banner Laundering company and Harry Long, and Mr. Foster, who made the purchase as an investment, says that he will probably improve the property by the erection of a business building there next spring.

Mr. Foster, in the opinion of realty men, has secured a bargain, though Mr. Craw, who owned the property but a year or two, sold it at a handsome advance over his purchase price.

SCOTT COUNTY GOES DRY.

Majority Votes Against Return of Licensed Saloon.

Scottsburg, Ind., Nov. 24.—Scott county voted "dry" by a majority of 375 in a local option election yesterday. The county was previously "dry" by remonstrance. Scottsburg, which had been expected to give a majority for the "wets," voted "dry." The election passed off quietly.

All but one precinct in the county voted "dry" majorities, this being the precinct in which Lexington is situated, which gave a majority of eight for the "wets." This town has been "dry" by remonstrance for the last four years.

About thirty women watchers, members of churches, were on the street all afternoon. They reported one intoxicated man, who was immediately taken to jail by the sheriff. This was the only arrest of the day.

WOMEN BURGLARS GET $400.

Minneapolis, Nov. 24.—Two women burglars, masked and armed with revolvers, entered the residence of Mrs. W. Crossman, a Minneapolis society woman, last night while she was seated in her library reading a book. She heard a noise in the hall, and, going out, discovered two women leisurely taking hatpins from the hats on the rack. Mrs. Crossman was speechless with fright and stood helplessly watching the burglars.

One of the women turned and saw Mrs. Crossman leaning against the door about to collapse. The burglar started toward her, and Mrs. Crossman declares she saw the muzzle of a revolver protruding from the sleeve of the burglar's waist.

Mrs. Crossman recovered therupon and managed to keep out of her reach. The robbers secured $100 in valuables.

One Million Dollars for a Good Stomach

This Offer Should be a Warning to Every Man and Woman

The newspapers and medical journals have had much to say relative to a famous millionaire's offer of a million dollars for a new stomach.

This great multi-millionaire was too busy to worry about the condition of his stomach. He allowed his dyspepsia to run from bad to worse until in the end it became incurable. His misfortune should serve as a warning to others. Every one who suffers with dyspepsia for a few years will give everything he owns for a new stomach.

Dyspepsia is caused by an abnormal state of the gastric juices. There is one element missing—Pepsin. The absence of this destroys the function of the gastric fluids. They lose their power to digest food.

We are now able to supply the pepsin in a form almost identical to that naturally created by the system when in normal health, so that it restores to the gastric juices their digestive power, and thus makes the stomach strong and well.

We want every one troubled with indigestion and dyspepsia to come to our store and obtain a box of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets. They contain Bismuth-Subnitrate and Pepsin prepared by a process which develops their greatest power to overcome digestive disturbance.

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets are very pleasant to take. They soothe the irritable, weak stomach, strengthen and invigorate the digestive organs, relieve nausea and indigestion, promote nutrition and bring about a feeling of comfort.

If you give Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets a reasonable trial we will return your money if you are not satisfied with the result. Three sizes, 25 cents, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Fort Wayne only at our stores—The Rexall stores. Meyer Bros. Co. Three drug stores.

AN UP-TO-DATE DRUGGIST

says it is surprising how many old-fashioned remedies are being used, which goes to show that it is hard to improve some of our grandmothers' old, time-tried remedies. For instance, for keeping the hair dark, soft and glossy, nothing equaling our grandmothers' "sage tea" has ever been discovered. Although, by the addition of sulphur and other ingredients, this old-fashioned brew has been made more effective as a scalp tonic and color restorer. Nowadays when our hair comes out or gets faded or gray, instead of going to the garden or garret for herbs and making the "tea" ourselves, we simply go to the nearest drug store and ask for a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur. This preparation is sold by all leading druggists for 50 cents and $1 a bottle, or is sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price.

THE NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

A "SWEET SIXTEEN" ELOPED WITH LOVER

Sent Telegram from Decatur to Her Parents That They Had Been Married.

Portland, Ind., Nov. 24.—Telling her parents that she was coming to this city to take a violin lesson, Miss Abbie Brewer, the sixteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brewer, of Redkey, met instead her affianced, Fred Webster, 21, of Dunkirk. Reaching this city on the first car, the couple boarded a northbound Grand Rapids and Indiana train, and at Decatur sent a telegram to the girl's parents carrying the news of their elopement, and saying that they had gone to Kalamazoo, Mich., to wed. The parents were also informed that the young people would return in a couple of days for the parental blessing, if it would be extended.

Mrs. Brewer, when she was informed of her daughter's act, it is said gave way to grief. The parents of the young bride, it is said, opposed the match at this time on account of the youth of her daughter, but will welcome the newly weds when they return home. The young man has entered business in Virginia, and after a short visit here he and his bride will go there to live.

Montpelier "Drys" Fighting Two Saloonists—Claim They Have Majority.

Hartford City, Ind., Nov. 24.—C. W. Kinnan, attorney for the Montpelier anti-saloon remonstrators, filed the transcripts in the Patrey and Allmon liquor license cases in the First and Second wards in Montpelier with County Clerk Reeves yesterday. The transcripts were filed following an appeal which was taken from the commissioners' court some time ago.

The Montpelier remonstrators claim that the First and Second wards are "dry" by comfortable majorities, but this did not prevent the commissioners from granting licenses to James Patrey and Peter Allmon.

ASSIGNED PENSION MONEY.

Gave to Deserted Wife, But Bureau Will Not Recognize Claim.

Bluffton, Ind., Nov. 24.—In order to compromise a charge of wife desertion which was filed against him by his wife, Dr. J. B. Evans, a fruit-tree agent, offered to assign to her one-half of his pension money, and this fact was communicated to the department at Washington, with instructions to order one-half of the pension paid regularly to Mrs. Evans.

But the department has written in reply that this cannot be done and that in order to get an order for one-half of the pension, Mrs. Evans would have to allege and prove that her husband had deserted or abandoned her for a period of six months and that she was in destitute circumstances, or she might draw one-half the pension if her husband entered a soldiers' home. Neither of these conditions exist. The couple will likely agree, however, not to quarrel longer over the money affair. He has returned here from Lebanon and says he intends to go into the poultry business.

NO MEETINGS FOR "WETS."

Cancel Two That Were Scheduled for Auburn Opera house.

Auburn, Ind., Nov. 24.—The "wets" have abandoned the idea of holding public meetings in preparation for the local option election to be held in this county next Saturday. They had advertised that two public meetings would be held at the Henry opera house in this city this week, one tonight and the other Friday, prominent foreign speakers to be here. But today they canceled the meetings, as they have other public meetings in the county. They are, however, active in their work, representatives being in every township. The "drys" are holding public meetings throughout the county.

PLAY WAS TOO RANK FOR BLUFFTONITES

Billed for the Opera House There, But the Manager Refused to Allow the Performance.

Bluffton, Ind., Nov. 24.—The "Oh, You Kid" company was billed for a performance at the Grand Opera House in this city on Monday night and the troupe was in town with all their paraphernalia to appear behind the footlights, but the show was not given, the manager of the theater refusing to allow the performance for the reason that it was too rank and not of the kind that he wished for his patrons.

During the afternoon the company got into town. The opera house manager had heard through "Doc" McGill, his representative, who had seen the show at Hartford City Saturday, that it was rotten and he had sent word to the company managers that they should not come here. But the troupe came all the same. Then the opera house manager and the show manager held a conference. The latter insisted on giving the performance. The house manager said he would allow it only on one condition, and that was that he could ring it down at any time when he thought it was of an objectionable character. To this the company manager would not agree and so the show was not given. The company then left for Decatur, where it was billed for Tuesday night. The manager says he will bring a suit for damages against the opera house management.

ALASKA GROWN TO A GREAT COUNTRY

PRIVATE CAPITAL WORKING MARVELS

Remarkable Opportunity for Settlers and Every Class of Business Man Now to Be Found in New Territory

That Alaska is a country of possibilities unsuspected, with resources that are but scratched, and with enough territory to make six great states, each richer than any Argonaut's dream, is the burden of Major-General A. W. Greely's new "Handbook of Alaska."

It is generally conceded that General Greely knows as much, if not more than any other man about Alaska. He states unequivocally that agriculture is a long-neglected opportunity, and that the man who takes up a homestead there now in either the Susitna, Tanana or Copper River valleys is laying the foundation for a comfortable fortune. As the land laws with regard to homesteading now stand, the path of the settler is made both easy and profitable and the markets are opening up rapidly. While mining was unquestionably the medium for introducing Alaska to the nations, the bulk of its wealth in the future will be drawn from its coal, its farms, its lumber and countless other resources. A country that cost seven millions and has so far turned in to its purchasers over three hundred millions deserves well of its owners, and that is but a foretaste of what Alaska can do, and will do. The coal in particular is of such infinite quantity and quality that even the vaunted Pennsylvania fields look mean by comparison, and when the cumbersome and slow-moving governmental machinery can be induced to allow the coal to be used instead of uselessly locked in the earth, Alaska will develop at a rate that will be measured in billions instead of millions.

General Greely has set forth his subject well, and shows to what extent the country that can produce luscious strawberries in five weeks as far north as the Arctic Circle, can be depended upon to furnish returns. "The Handbook of Alaska" will go far to removing the silly beliefs that the country is a land of snow and ice, for, as is shown, it is mentioned as an incident that Juneau, the capital, is in the same latitude as Edinburgh, and that the agricultural conditions are precisely equivalent, and in some cases superior to Norway and Sweden. Also in many cases the country is vastly ahead of the United States in its development, for it is dotted with wireless telegraph stations; is building railroads at the rate of miles a day; is making permanent roads as fast as possible; is attracting settlers in hordes and incidentally offering, under the intelligent supervision of private capital, such opportunities as are generally only dreamed of. Private capital has already made a vast new ocean port, Cordova, at a cost of millions, and is pushing a railroad to the interior with giant strides. So far the government has been content to sit by and watch some one else do the work.

General Greely's book is a story of power and absorbing interest and discounts many a tale of adventure.

FATHER WINS RACE FOR CHILD.

Chicago, Nov. 24.—A wild race about Chicago in automobiles by deputy sheriffs in search of a seven-year-old heiress and her father, into whose custody the child was given yesterday by a circuit court judge, was won in the end by the fleeing father and daughter, who are thought to be now on their way to the father's home in the east.

This incident marked the latest developments in a legal fight for the possession of Katheryn A. Good, daughter of Henry F. Good, of Lock Haven, Pa. The mother of the girl, Mrs. Anna Hoxie Good, who was divorced from her husband several months ago, was killed in an automobile accident near Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 15. At the time of Mrs. Good's death, the child's grandmother, Mrs. John C. Hoxie, of this city, was made guardian of the girl's estate, which is valued at about $400,000.

No sooner had the girl been given into her father's care yesterday than the grandmother secured from Judge Windes, of the circuit court, a writ enjoining Good from taking the child out of Illinois. Services of deputy sheriffs were secured by the grandmother in order to serve the papers on Good, but after the deputies had whisked from one hotel and railroad station to another without finding him, they were compelled to admit their defeat.

Mrs. Hoxie said that she was legally appointed guardian of the girl by the probate court and that the father has no legal right to the child.

IGNORANCE OF FORM COSTS JOB.

Chinese Viceroy Ousted Because He Misconducted Funeral.

Pekin, Nov. 24.—Charged with ignorance of the proprieties, as demonstrated by reckless acts in connection with the funeral of the late dowager empress, of which he had official supervision, Tuan Fang, viceroy of Chi Li province, was yesterday dismissed.

The action, taken upon the memorial of Marquis Li, grandson of Li Hung Chang, specifies that Tuan Fang dispatched men along the route of the funeral to take photographs, permitted himself to be carried in a sedan chair across forbidden streets during the ceremony of the burning of clothing and permitted a telegraph wire to be hung on trees within the walls surrounding the tombs.

The viceroy's dismissal has created the greatest sensation. Tuan Fang was the ablest of the Manchu officials and heretofore one of the most influential advisers of the regent. The degradation of a high Manchu and the appointment of Chen Kuei Lung, a Chinese, now viceroy of Hunan and Hupeh, in his stead is construed as the highest evidence of the throne's determination to respect the sacred Chinese traditions, ignorance of which is unforgivable in responsible officials.

People say this is the same coal others are selling for $7.00 and have been selling for $6.25 and $6.50. Why pay the additional 25 and 50c. Don't be deceived by letting others tell you that this $7.00 coal is as good as Scranton, LeHigh, P. & R. or Pink Ash coals that are selling for $7.75, for it is not. There is no mistake about the coal being good for the price, $6.50, which makes the profit in keeping with other coals. MR. GRICE'S APPOINTMENTS.

Mayor-elect Grice, after much stress of mind and spirit, has disposed of the most trying task a new mayor has to face. He has designated what men he expects to appoint to office when his administration begins and can take up his duties as mayor with men who have had some opportunity to acquaint themselves with their obligations. Mr. Grice and his advisers have spent much troublous time in the endeavor to frame an administration whose personnel would conscientiously meet all demands of public duty and at the same time recognize political exigencies. There will be general public approval of the mayor-elect's choice of men. Here and there, of course, will be dissatisfaction that springs from either personal or political animus, but there is abundant reason for belief that Mr. Grice has chosen men who will make good.

In the retention of Mr. E. J. Lennon, present chairman of the board of public works, as democratic member of that body under his administration, Mr. Grice has acted in accord with a widespread sentiment that the old member ought to remain. Added to this was the personal solicitations of many leading mercantile and industrial interests whose heads believed that Mr. Grice could do nothing wiser than to keep in the municipal service a man of proved capacity and minutely acquainted with municipal projects now afoot as well as those already achieved, as the lighting plant and the waterworks. Mr. Lennon has been a popular member of the board, his abilities have been well proved and his integrity is never called in question. His colleagues, the Messrs. Benoy and Hilgeman, are men of high standing, recognized ability and special fitness for the duties they are to assume. There is much agreement of opinion that the new board of works will not disappoint expectations in any wise.

To our mind the most important work that will engage Mayor Grice's administration at the outset will be executed through the board of safety. Reorganization of the police department and the institution of a regime of honest law enforcement in Fort Wayne, as have been promised, will put the board of safety under great weight of responsibility and labor. The men appointed to the board are of business prominence and high standing. It has been understood that Mr. Grice means to let the board of safety really perform the functions designated by the law, and not, as has been the custom of his predecessors, undertake to be the "whole thing" in police administration, premising of course specifically what his policies are to be. This being true, the new board will have abundant objects for its diligence and good purpose in restoring the morale and efficiency of the police department and establishing a wholesome regime of law enforcement here. The board will be splendidly reinforced by the man to whom the mayor-elect has tendered the office of chief of police. Apart from all the others this appointment stands for its singular excellence. Good as they may be, the other appointments do not deserve title to exclusive merit. That of Captain William F. Borgman does. To name him is the very best Mayor-elect Grice could have done. He will reflect credit on Mr. Grice, his administration and the city. With a free hand to render the service that it is in him to give, Fort Wayne will have under Captain Borgman police efficiency that will mean something.

In Mr. H. G. Hogan, chosen for city attorney, and Mr. W. S. Cutshall, appointed comptroller, Mr. Grice has chosen two very clean and very capable young men.

The tone and spirit of Mr. Grice's administration will be imparted by him. Like all other high executive officers, he will find that his own good purpose and lofty intent will be the inspiration and law of his period of rule. He has started well by surrounding himself with men who stand high and can be trusted.

A BOOST FOR OPTION LAW.

By virtue of a supreme court decision the temperance people of the state have secured relief from a condition that bid fair to nullify the fruits of county option and township remonstrance triumphs. The court holds it to be unlawful for any brewery or brewery agent to sell to consumers direct. Intoxicants must be purchased by the consumer of some one having the authority of a retailers' license to deal in them. This the breweries have not got and cannot get. Of course the ruling applies with equal force to other alcoholic beverages for the retailing of which a license is necessary.

This ruling will enable the authorities to reach the social clubs which have been multiplying with amazing rapidity in "dry" communities. These clubs are organized and incorporated under the laws of the state and are governed under by-laws and rules adroitly framed to meet conditions imposed by the option law or the remonstrance act. Breweries and brewery agents have been engaged in a tremendous business with such clubs and "dry" communities had not become temperate with the destruction of the saloons, but employed merely another way to procure drinks.

The decision likewise throttles the beer wagon business with residences. Breweries and brewery agencies have developed an enormous direct-to-the-consumer traffic. This the court holds to be unlawful and of course it will have to stop. The consumer will have to do business with a retailer and there are no retailers in "dry" counties. Alcoholic drinks can be procured only at great trouble in "dry" communities—so much trouble, indeed, that many will prefer to go without beer.

This decision is of the utmost importance and has been awaited with great anxiety by the temperance forces. It will enable them to make local prohibition prohibit.

Grand jury of Marion county is scooting a splintery plank under Mayor-elect Shank of Indianapolis. Charge is that he violated an Indiana statute which puts prohibition upon any bartering of office for votes. This is alleged against Shank by whoever it is that is after him, and from the row in progress it sounds as though pretty much the entire capital town had joined in pursuit of the auctioneer who beat the tinsmith. Shank has broken his promises and is deserted by all save the politicians. Both newspapers that gave him campaign support have turned away and mention his name only to call on him to make good. Now if the grand jury can but find occasion to indict him, his cup of joy will be full and brimming over.

Ten thousand human beings in New York concentrated their minds on the having of a new and much-needed public school building. Casting off great dynamic waves of thought so wrought upon the board of education that the building was vouchsafed. Popular understanding of the dynamics of thought will multiply perils for the rich. Just think of forty or fifty thousand people who need the money uniting to give the absent treatment to Johndee or the canny Andy's benevolent bump a jolt by wireless! Some strictly elegant and exclusive possibilities here.

Mayor-elect Grice has passed the pie to those who get the cuts and not the crumbs and the worst of it is over for him. The sore ones will find themselves recovering in surprising order and glad to have known the worst in good season.

AN EDUCATIONAL FACTOR.

Secretary Wilson on the Chicago Stock Show.

Chicago, Nov. 24.—Hon. James Wilson, secretary of agriculture, in speaking of the International Live Stock Exposition, which is to be held this year from Nov. 27 to Dec. 10, said:

"The International Live Stock Exposition as an educational factor has carved a niche for itself.

"Producers are confronted with the problem of increased cost of every commodity that they use, greatly enhancing their expenditure.

"Obviously this necessitates rigid economy, and the man who reduces cost of production to a minimum insures maximum profits and his own survival where others fail.

"The International is teaching its valuable lesson to the country at an opportune moment.

"During the period of cheap feed and feed lot extravagance such education was not valued, because its benefits were not realized at the time.

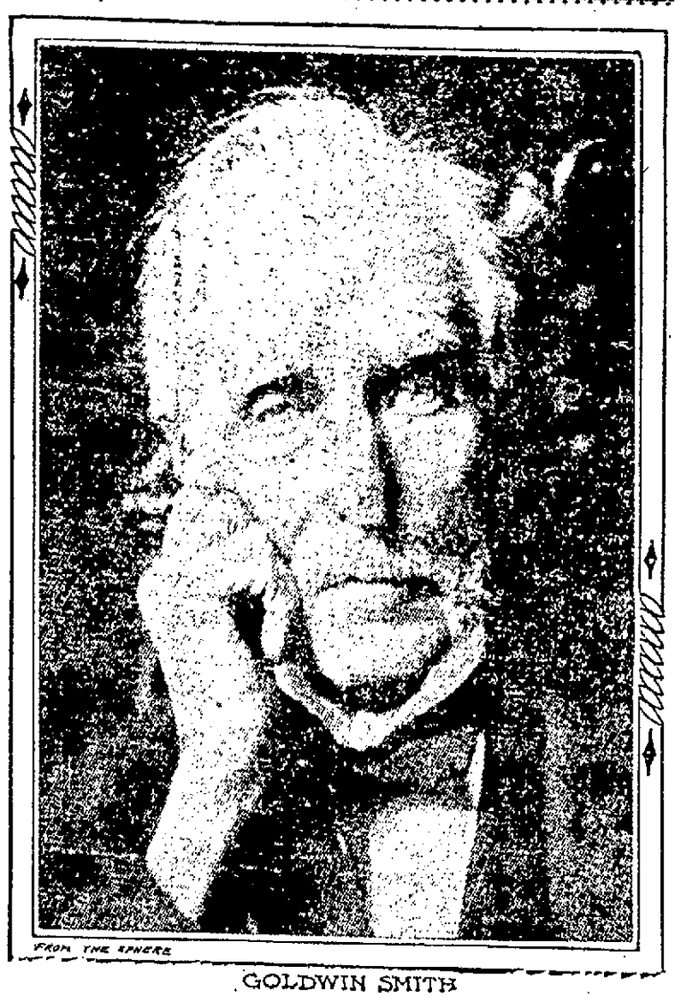

"Under new conditions, the man who produces beef, pork and mutton cannot afford the use of inferior machinery in his business.

"Economy requires that he handle the very best types of the most improved breeding; and these lessons can be obtained at the International Live Stock Exposition, which is acknowledged to be an educational institution of the highest order in its line."

GOLDWIN SMITH

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 24.—Gravest doubts of either the necessity or the wisdom of the policy of a war navy, upon which the Dominion government seems to be embarking, are voiced by Professor Goldwin Smith, Canada's foremost publicist, whose laying aside of the pen at the age of eighty-seven marks the end of an epoch in Canadian journalism.

Unaffected by parties and untrammeled by personal interest, Professor Smith has written for years in the Weekly Sun with an independence of spirit and breadth of view that have vitally influenced Canadian affairs. The Sun cut its circulation in half by opposing the Boer war, but it stood to its principles and is doing the same now against that portion of the press of Lower Canada which is favorable to the naval movement.

The correspondent asked Professor Smith for his opinion on the movement for the establishment of a Canadian navy.

Professor Smith explained that he really wished to relinquish his active life and to be free from the controversy which his candid discussion of Canadian affairs has evoked during many years. His criticism of the naval movement has stirred the resentment of those who would go further than the creation of a purely Canadian fleet and would contribute millions directly to the imperial treasury for dreadnought construction.

"I have already expressed my doubts," Professor Smith said. "What has Canada to fear? We have no enemy. The United States is really a protecting power."

TWO BIG FORTUNES ARE FUSED AT ALTAR

Mrs. W. H. Chapman, Worth $10,000,000, Wife of Man Worth $20,000,000

New York, Nov. 24.—Mrs. William Hays Chapman, the "$10,000,000 widow," surprised her friends yesterday by being married at her apartments in the Hotel St. Regis to Philip Von Valkenburgh, a brother-in-law of Judge Edward Rappolo, and himself the possessor of $20,000,000.

Mrs. Chapman met Mr. Von Valkenburgh on a voyage on the Mauretania from Europe when she returned recently and rather feebly denied that she was betrothed to Gen. Count Spiridovitch, a Russian, to whom European gossip denied his titles, although last winter he was received in good society here and made a great impression.

Comte Senies Gets a Shock.

The Comte Senies, who followed Mrs. Chapman from Europe, coming on La Provence, called on her at her apartments last night, and from his dejected look afterward apparently was the first to hear the news that Mr. Von Valkenburgh was to marry Mrs. Chapman.

The wedding is a complete surprise to every one who knows the pretty young widow. The bride seems to have kept her own counsel and Mr. Von Valkenburgh has not been mentioned as one of her suitors.

Von Valkenburgh, who is 55 years old, is descended from one of the oldest Dutch families in America. The names of his ancestors appear on the first charts of Manhattan and they always have been large real estate holders. His father was founder and grst president of the Fifth Avenue bank.

Bridegroom is a Lawyer.

The bridegroom is a large stockholder in the bank. He is a lawyer by profession and a member of several New York clubs, including the Manhattan, Union, University and Automobile.

The wedding was kept so absolutely secret that even the name of the minister who performed the ceremony was unobtainable. Employes of the hotel were sworn to secrecy.

TRIAL DIVORCE IN OHIO TOWN.

Decree Withheld to Give Couple Chance to Make Up.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 24.—The first trial divorce in Ohio was granted at Mansfield yesterday to Walter D. Hanna, city clerk of Shelby.

On suggestion of Judge Cummins the decree will not be recorded until Hanna and his wife either become reconciled or find that reconciliation is impossible. Hanna was given the custody of their two children, Phyllis, 5, and Merrill, 3, in the hope that they may lead the wife back to him. He has the two children at his home in Shelby.

The trial divorce was the outcome of the infatuation of Mrs. Hanna for Samuel Robb of Shelby. Hanna found them together at his home the night of October 1 and compelled them to sign an affidavit confessing their love for each other.

THE WHITE PLAGUE IN INDIANA

Not only in Fort Wayne but all over Indiana women's clubs, social organizations, health societies, committees from secret orders, Y. W. C. A. and other forces are pushing the sale of Red Cross Christmas stamps before the public. As Christmas draws nearer the public interest in the stamp becomes keener and the sales grow larger. The indications are that the stamps will be as necessary to develop genuine Christmas cheer as will Christmas gifts. The general interest is much more pronounced this year than a year ago, when the public only in some of the larger cities could obtain the stamps. During Christmas time last year, Indianapolis people bought 180,000 of these Red Cross stamps and pasted them on letters and Christmas parcels which were sent to friends. In Richmond the sale reached $265, or 26,500 Stamps at one cent each. Crawfordsville bought $153 worth of them: Connersville, $137; Elkhart, $93; Fort Wayne, $127; Muncie $157; New Albany, $93; Princeton, $50; South Bend, $92; Terre Haute, $95. A total of over 400,000 stamps were sold in this state.

The people are not only buying the stamp for the clever idea and Christmas cheer which centers in it, but each stamp sold is a contribution of one cent to the Red Cross warfare against the white plague in Indiana. The indications are that the sales will be much heavier than a year ago. The money will be sent to Noble C. Butler, of Indianapolis, who is president of the Indiana branch of the American Red Cross, and when the funds from the whole state reach him early in the new year it is expected that a goodly fund will be available for Red Cross work. The Red Cross hopes to sell 2,000,000, or $20,000 worth of stamps in Indiana, and scores of organizations and individuals who are promoting the sales in cities and towns are making an energetic effort to go over this amount.

NO DANGER TO EARTH FROM HALLEY COMET, FATHER SEARLE'S OPINION.

Nearest the Head Will Come to This Planet is About 14,000,000 Miles—Says Some Phenomena May be Noticed—World Pretty Certain to Be in Tail of the Comet Next May.

New York, Nov. 24.—Just how close to the earth the much discussed Halley's comet is going to get on its travels is told in a statement made today by Rev. Father George M. Searle, supervisor general of the Order of Paulist Fathers in this city. Father Searle, who is acknowledged to be an authority on astronomy and mathematics, scoffed at the idea that either the nebulae or the tail of the comet would come in contact with the earth.

According to predictions made recently the Halley comet is likely to strike the earth, enveloping it with gaseous and material substances. While Father Searle admits that the earth and the comet may be near enough together so that some phenomena may occur, he declares it impossible for any gaseous or material substance to penetrate the atmosphere. The prediction made by Father Searle is as follows:

"The nearest approach of Halley's comet to the earth will be very nearly at the time (the night of May 18) when it comes between us and the sun. It will then be about fourteen million miles away. As the coma or head will be hardly a million miles in diameter, at the very outside possibility, there is no danger whatever of our coming in contact with it.

"It is now extremely probable, according to my own calculations, that it will come directly between us and the sun; probably at about midnight of our time. Of course we cannot see the phenomenon here, but it may be visible in Europe and Asia, also in the Pacific ocean.

"Possibly some magnetic or electrical phenomena may occur, but any gases or material substances in the tail will probably be unable to penetrate our atmosphere.

"The transit, it would seem, ought to be visible where the sun is so. When the large mass of coma and some million miles of tail, to say nothing of the nucleus, come between us and the sun, there should be some observation. However, we cannot be sure of this."

"Even if we did pass through the tail of a comet," continued Father Searle, "there would be little danger to the inhabitants of the earth. The last time the earth passed through one was in 1861, and it was not until we were thousands of miles away that astronomers realized what had happened."

THE REV GEORGE M SEARLE.

Father Searle is a descendant of one of the most distinguished families of New England. He was born in Cambridge, Mass., in 1839, and is a graduate of Harvard and took a post graduate course in mathematics and astronomy in England. He was given the degree of Ph. D. at the Catholic university in Washington in 1860. Prior to this he had been the assistant professor of astronomy at the Dudley observatory in Albany. From 1859 to 1869 he was the chief expert calculator of the United States coast survey, and while with that department discovered the asteroid Pandora. He then became the assistant professor of astronomy at the United States Naval academy and later took charge of the Harvard observatory. In 1868 he joined the Paulist Fathers, and was ordained a priest in 1871. He was also the chief professor of mathematics at the Catholic university of Washington. Father Searle has been the supervisor general of the Paulist Fathers in this diocese since 1904.

MURDOCK READY TO GO GUNNING FOR UNCLE JOE

Washington, Nov. 24.—Representative Victor Murdock, of Kansas, the best known insurgent in the house and the man who led the first real fight against Speaker Joseph G. Cannon, reached Washington yesterday.

Mr. Murdock is full of ideas for the campaign which he expects the insurgents to wage at the coming session, and he appeared anxious for the battle. Among the things he hopes for are the resignation of Cannon, either at the request of his republican friends in the house who wish to save the party's face, or through a petition from a majority of the house; three radical changes in the rules which will do away with the "system's" present powers, and the enactment of important legislation.

Describes Decline of Cannon.

"Uncle Joe," said Mr. Murdock last night, "is westward of his zenith and is still on the decline. Before the end of the coming season I expect to see some of his friends go to him and inform him gently that he should resign. I can imagine some of the majority relishing that task. There is no doubt but that Cannon has become more of an issue than ever.

"The country generally is becoming aroused over the situation in the house and is getting to realize that not only is the 'system' bad, but that Cannon's personal methods are bad, too."

It had been reported that Mr. Murdock was bringing with him from Kansas a text of a petition designed to make Mr. Cannon resign. The intention, it was declared, was to have a majority of the house sign it and then some lucky individual was to present it to the speaker.

Mr. Murdock didn't bring the petition with him.

"I haven't prepared the petition yet," he said. "That is a matter for serious consideration, but I do believe such a petition will be circulated. It will take all of the insurgents—and I like that word 'insurgents'—to circulate it. If Cannon were brought face to face with such an expression from the majority he would have to get out."

Mr. Murdock said there are three principal objects for which the insurgents—so far as he is able to speak for the insurgents—will strive at this session. The rule regarding recognition provides that a member may, upon rising, address the speaker, and "if recognized," proceed.

If the speaker doesn't like the member's proposition after it has been stated, he usually remarks that he "will not recognize the gentleman for that purpose."

According to Mr. Murdock's plan, the three words, "and if recognized," should be stricken out. Then a member would be able to present what he wished.

A second matter of importance from the insurgent point of view, Mr. Murdock thought, was the creation of a committee on committees, similar to that existing in the senate.

To this committee on committees would fall the duty of appointing the other standing committees of the house. It probably would be composed of fifteen men, so chosen that the balance of power would not be thrown to any one section of the country. Of this committee the speaker would not be a member.

The third matter which Mr. Murdock wishes to change is the presence of the speaker on the committee on rules, of which he is at present ex-officio a member. This committee also would be appointed by the committee on committees.

Mr. Murdock declared that Speaker Cannon has befogged the issue in his recent speeches. The speaker, he said, has insisted the insurgents only were disgruntled on account of failure to get good committee assignments. The Kansan asserted that the country is awakening to the fact that Mr. Cannon is wrong on this little question of truth.

Mr. Murdock said he expected to see currency legislation, ship subsidy legislation, a postal savings bank bill taken up, and amendments to the Sherman act and to the interstate commerce act.

Miss Minnie Rodenberg was very pleasantly surprised last evening at her home on Wall street. Music and games were the amusements of the evening and prizes were won by Esther Hasty, Vera Rodenbeck, Walter Meyer and William Rodenbeck. Other guests were Carrie Butz, Edith Rousch, Ida Proehl, Bertha and Clara Rodenberg, Charles Daub, William Brandt, Fred Bartles, Otto Proehl, August Rodenberg, Waldo Miller, Royden Gilbert, Edward Hoffman.

The graduating nurses of the Hope hospital training school were guests of honor at a company given last evening by Miss Jane Leach, at her home on West Jefferson street. A very enjoyable program of recitations and music was given by Miss Cecil Link, Miss Celia Hoffer and Mrs. O. E. Richards. The class colors, yellow and lavender, were used in decorating the rooms, and formed the color scheme at the supper table. Violet designs on the napkins and plates harmonized with the dainty menu, and the desert of orange ice holding a tiny candied violet was especially attractive.

One of the most beautiful and elaborate social affairs of the week was the luncheon given at one o'clock today at the hotel Anthony by Miss Esther Paul in compliment to her guest, Miss Melissa Meyers, of Logansport. Miss Paul was assisted in receiving her guests by her mother, Mrs. Henry C. Paul, and her sisters, Mrs. Henry Bowerfind and Mrs. James Haberly. The long table was set in the banquet hall and covers were laid for forty. The place cards were handsomely embossed and small individual bouquets of pink forget-me-nots and golden gate rose buds edged with maidenhair fern lay at each plate. The table was lighted with pink-hooded candles and low Dutch backets filled with pink chrysanthemums and plumosis were placed at intervals, giving a most beautiful effect. Miss Flick had charge of the decorations and assisted Miss Paul in carrying out her own ideas which were both individual and beautiful.

When the members of the Embroidery club with an equal number of gentlemen were asked to the home of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Moellering, 323 Washington boulevard, last evening, the invitations did not indicate that the occasion would be one of unusual significance. The evening was spent in playing cards after which the guests were ushered into the dining room. Small envelopes on which were placed sprays of orange blossom marked the places at the table and inside the envelopes were found cards bearing the photographs of Miss Lillian Moellering and Mr. William A. Young, with the date of the wedding which is to be January 19, 1910. Intimate friends of the family have known of the engagement for some time, but the formal announcement of the date of the wedding came as a surprise. The table was beautiful with its floral decorations and favors suggestive of wedding bells. There were small slippers, tiny doves, orange blossom and individual wedding cakes. The affair was a double celebration as the announcement was made on Mr. Young's birthday anniversary. Both Miss Moellering and Mr. Young are very popular among their large circle of friends. As a musician and a dealer in music, Mr. Young is very well known. The guests at last evening's festivities were Mr. and Mrs. Will Melching, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Heit, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Luecke, Miss Anna Scherer, Miss Mayme Noll, Miss Elma Young, Miss Gertrude Warner, Miss Alma Bruns, Messrs. George Jacobs, John Snetzer, Carl Stogdill, Albert Kreuper and Arthur Young.

WINTER NECKWEAR

The new frilled jabots may be bought ready to attach to the stock collar, and a dainty woman never wears a jabot after it has become soiled or mussed.

FOR THE UP-TO-DATE WOMAN.

By MRS. JANE FORD.

7 SIZES 32 TO 44 BUST

While some women prefer high neck night gowns, most of us like the comfortable low neck models, and an especially attractive design of the latter style shown here, may be quickly made. Incidentally this gown is as suitable for stout figures as for slender ones, as the pattern is in seven sizes that run from thirty-two to forty-four inches bust measure. To make the medium sizes, only five yards of goods thirty-six inches in width will be needed, or seven yards of forty-four inch material.

This garment can be made from one material, or the yoke portion, which is cleverly arranged so that the side pieces finish in points, may be cut from allover embroidery, or wide strips of insertion.

Although this finish may at first appear complicated, it is really simple, for, after the gown is cut out and the tucks stitched in both the back and front portions, the yoke pieces are basted in position, first the straight front piece and then the side strips. The seaming is done with a French fell and the armhole seams finished either with a fell or by binding them with a narrow strip of bias lawn.

A very pretty gown in this style that I saw recently showed a yoke trimming of pale blue embroidery that offers a suggestion to any one who is handy with the needle, for, on a plain yoke of the material could be worked a dainty spray in colors, or the monogram could be carried out on the left side of the yoke.

Feather stitching which is always a neat finish for underclothes, could be arranged to outline the whole yoke and the hem of the full sleeves, or, if the gathered sleeve is preferred, the band could be trimmed.

For general wear the soft weaves of long cloth cannot be improved upon, and Hamburg embroidery gives excellent wear as a trimming.

Potato Chowder.

Peel and chop fine one large onion; dice six peeled potatoes and one-quarter of a pound of ham. Put the ham and onion in a pan and fry slowly until brown. Cut the potatoes, ham and onion in layers in a saucepan, sprinkling them with one tablespoonful of chopped parsley, salt and pepper. Add two cupfuls of water, cover and simmer for twenty minutes; add two cupfuls of scalded milk, stir in one tablespoonful of flour and one tablespoonful of butter rubbed to a paste. See that it is well seasoned, simmer a minute longer and serve.

Little Caramel Puddings.

Into a clean dry frying pan put one half of a cupful of granulated sugar and set on the side of the fire where it will melt slowly. No water is to be added, and by the time the sugar is entirely melted the syrup should be of a clear, golden brown color. If the fire is too hot the syrup will be too dark and the burnt flavor too pronounced. Have ready some small cups or thimble molds. Pour a little of the caramel in each, turning them round and round in order to coat the sides and bottom evenly as possible. The amount given should be sufficient for five or six small cups. In a bowl break four eggs, add four tablespoonfuls of sugar and beat enough to mix well. Add one pint of milk and one teaspoonful of vanilla and stir occasionally until the sugar is dissolved. Then fill the molds, set them in a pan of warm water and bake in a moderate oven until they are firm in the center. If baked too fast they will be full of bubbles. When done pass a knife around the sides and turn out on individual plates. The caramel, uniting with a portion of the water in the milk serves to form the sauce. Serve cold.

THANKSGIVING POULTRY.

Turkeys, Ducks, Geese and Chickens Galore on the Streets.

A big portion of the population of Fowldom; that part of it in the vicinity of Fort Wayne, was in town toda, coming on account of the approach of Thanksgiving, which is now only a few hours away. The headquarters was on Barr street, extending from Wayne to Columbia. There turkes, chickens, geese and ducks were seen in almost countless numbers, alive and dead. Wagons loaded with poultry lined the street and great crowds visited with them for the purpose of making their purchases for the Thanksgiving dinner tomorrow.

Poultry dealers said the market was not as large as that of last year, but it was a pretty big one, anyhow. And the sales were large, continuing all through the forenoon and into the afternoon. Turkeys alive brought 17 and 18 cents. Some sales were made at 16. Dressed Turkeys brought 20 and 22 cents. Geese alive sold at 10 and dressed at 12½ cents, ducks alive 10 and dressed 15 cents, and chickens alive 10 and dressed 15 cents. While the favored purchased bird was the turkey, there were a large number of ducks and geese sold. In fact, at 10 o'clock the stock of ducks had about sold out. Almost everybody the reporter met at that hour was looking for ducks.

The market today was mostly a poultry one. There was but little else on the market street.

NEW ANGLE TO OLD SUIT.

Another Move in Ancient Litigation Against the Wabash.

Toledo, Ohio, Nov. 23.—A new angle in litigation rivaling the case of Jarndyce vs. Jarndyce was submitted to common pleas court here yesterday on an application representative of the Adelbert college, of Cleveland, and numerous other claimants for personal judgement against the Wabash railroad and its predecessor, the Toledo and Wabash railroad.

These claims, originally aggregating $300,000, but now amounting to a half dozen times that much with interest since 1875, are based on the same issue of old equipment bonds as the claim of the estate of James Compton, upon which the United States circuit court of appeals recently gave a final decree for aproximately $900,000. For the satisfaction of Compton property of the Wabash in Ohio, except the new Montpelier branch, is to be sold Dec. 22.

The claims today represented were first sued upon in 1881, and have been twice to the United States supreme court. They were barred from participating in the lien on the property under which the Compton estate benefits. Answer was made that these claimants are not entitled to such judgment against the present Wabash company which acquired the property at foreclosure sale, prior to which Compton's claim had been perfected in the state courts.

SEEKS TO AMEND SHERMAN LAW

Financier Says Move Is On—Oil Lawyer Denies Helping.

New York, Nov. 24.—According to a prominent financier, steps have already been taken in high quarters to influence legislation looking toward an amendment to the Sherman anti-trust act. Prominent business men of the country will be asked for their support.

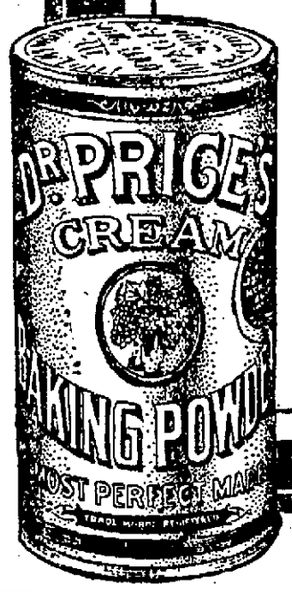

A representative said a bill would be introduced to amend the Sherman act as soon as congress convened. Congress, he said, would undoubtedly take the matter up without delay, as the decision affected not only the Standard Oil company, but every other corporation as well.

M. F. Elliott, general counsel for the Standard Oil company, said:

"The lawyers for the Standard Oil company are busy preparing the brief which must be filed with the notice of appeal. There is to be no effort on the part of the company to procure an amendment of the Sherman anti-trust law. We shall await the verdict of the supreme court before we take any steps looking toward either reorganization or a new statement of our case to the public."

"Sweets to the sweet" is a sentiment most fittingly and satisfactorily expressed by giving her a box of He-Mi-La Purity Chocolates. You'll know them first by the H-M-L brand, afterward by their superior quality.

It is said oxgall is good for preserving gray and browns. For washing tan and natural colors use water in which hay has boiled. This will make the linen look like new again.

Sugar of lead—five cents' worth dissolved in a pailful of water—will prevent pinks, blues and lavenders from running.

Vinegar is good for purples and greens. Some persons mix a tablespoonful of black pepper in the first suds when the garment to be washed is a striped fabric in delicate tints.

Ammonia in solution will revive colors, and should this fail to be on hand common vinegar will often answer well.

Supposing colored garments must wait before being hung up to dry, as in the case of the starch not being quite ready, or perhaps too hot (very hot starch will cause the color to fade), then they should be laid in cold water to which a handful of common salt has been added.

Tables and marble washstands often become stained, and unless these are carefully removed the marble is apt to lose its polish during the process. An authority gives the following as the best method: Mix together a teaspoonful of strong soapsuds, the same amount of oxgall, and half a wineglassful of turpentine. Add sufficient Fuller's earth to form a stiff paste and apply to the marble with a brush. The mixture should be allowed to remain for two or three days, then be wiped off.

Black marble requires a different treatment. Equal parts of pearl ash and soft soap should be mixed together, applied with a flannel and allowed to remain on for ten minutes. Wash off with warm water and when dry polish with a rag saturated with kerosene.

A good furniture polish that is also excellent for reviving leather is made from the white of one egg, well beaten, half a wine glass of methylated spirits, the same quantity of vinegar and one wine glassful of pure sweet oil.

To remove grease from coat collars on men's overcoats rub with a cloth dipped in ammonia.

This will often remove the gloss from the elbows, seams, etc., when they exist. When, however, the patches are very shiny, a teaspoonful of powdered nutgalls in a cupful of hot water make an excellent solution for removing the spots.

Turpentine will remove paint stains from all kinds of woolen cloths. If the stains are old it may be necessary to add a little ammonia to the turpentine.

Now that the Dutch collar is worn to such a large extent, the amateur laundress may be glad to know the correct method for getting up these pretty accessories.

The band must be ironed first, and the collar must not be touched while doing so. The band can be laid on the edge of the table, and ironed thoroughly on both sides until dry. Next press the wrong side of the collar lightly, then the right. If the collar is very damp use a thin cloth between it and the iron, ironing as much as possible with the thread of the fabric and upward toward the band.

RESTORING FRESHNESS TO FURS BY SIMPLE METHOD.

Sunning and airing furs will do much toward restoring their pristine freshness; so as soon as the skins are taken from their summer storage they should be put through a course of treatment to remove the flat, worn appearance. For this work a sunny day should be chosen, and if one is fortunate enough to possess a clothesline each garment and piece should be tightly fastened to the line. This requires more than casual arranging, for a spot must be found where the clothespins and the strain they cause will not break the skin. Consequently it is sometimes better to run large hatpins through the furs when they are airing.

Beating is part of this renovating, but this is to be done with the utmost discretion. For instance, the whip must be a light one, for a stick of ordinary weight might break the skin. The whipping process should be done with short, quick strokes, going over all parts of the surface, as well as the wrong side. Muffs will be improved by putting them on thick sticks, and shaking the stick violently. This action will shake the muff without danger of breaking it. It may also be whipped lightly.

It is remarkable how this simple handling will restore fluffiness to furs that have had a long nap.

Warm sawdust is one of the best cleansing agents for light colored furs, such as fox and ermine. To use it, heat the dust in an oven, and then the fur to be treated must be laid smoothly on a flat surface, and into it the warm sawdust should be rubbed with the hands, each part of the garment being scrubbed separately. The sawdust is then brushed and whipped out, and the process repeated. The garment is finally hung in the sun and wind. This is the best possible treatment for ermine.

COUNCIL GRINDS A BIG GRIST OF ROUTINE

Disposes of Business Without Argument—The Details.

In the presence of a number of the newly elected members of the next city council the present council disposed of a big grist last night in jig time without argument or comment. Most of the time was devoted to appropriations, a number of which were asked and the requests sent to the finance committee.

John J. Bauer, who has for some time been an avowed candidate for president of the next body, and Allen Hamilton, who has recently entered the lists, were working hard among the members-elect for the place, which carries only honor and glory with it.

An appropriation of $1,160.34 was asked to pay increased salaries to the city treasurer, deputy city controller and members of the board of public health, one of $1,500 for cleaning the mouth of the intercepting sewer, another of $1,100 to pay the salary of the assistant chief and of an extra man required on the new truck, one of $600 for the prevention of contagious diseases and two of $250 and $175 for printing and putting tires on the patrol wagon respectively. Ordinances carrying all went to a second reading and were referred to the committee on finance.

A meeting with the board of public works was arranged for next Monday afternoon at which the question of metering all water services in the city within a fixed time and discontinuing the flat rate entirely will be taken up. The water works committee will attend.

The market house plans of Mahurin and Mahurin were approved and an ordinance passed providing for the erection of the structure. The architects are to get 3 per cent of the construction price but their fee will not exceed $644.22 and if they superintend they will get 2 per cent additional not to exceed $420. The contract can not be let.

The claims of $50 each of Homer C. Underwood and Lee J. Hartzell, who served as election canvassers were referred to the committee on elections. An ordinance annexing enough territory at the northwest limits of the city to "square up" the Pfeiffer addition was referred to a special committee composed of Members Bayer, Cook, Welch, Henry and Henderson.

An ordinance approving the contract with the Kaough Coal company for the coal supply for No. 2 pumping station was referred to the committee on contracts and franchises.

A meeting of the committee of the whole arranged for next Tuesday at which the $5,000 claim of Zollars and Zollars will be taken up.

The mayor announced that he had approved ordinances providing for the sale of scrap iron, approving a contract with the Fort Wayne Electric works for equipment, appropriating $1,000 for street cleaning and $700 for the prevention of contagious diseases, annexing North Wayne heights and changing the name of the retail market to Hanna place market.

PHYSICIAN PALE AFTER CRIME.

Woman Says She Was in Office of Fritch on Fatal Day.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 24.—A woman, who refuses to give her name, called at the Millman residence yesterday afternoon and talked to the mother of Mabel Millman, the girl found murdered in Detroit last summer. The mysterious woman claims she was a stranger in Detroit, that she went to Dr. Fritch for treatment and that in his office she met a young woman who said she was Mabel Millman. Finally it came time for Miss Millman to go into the inner office. As she left she dropped her handkerchief, which the other woman picked up. As the time dragged on the mysterious woman grew tired and nervous and started down the stairs. Just then she heard the doctor's door slam and he rushed past her into the street.

"His face was as white as a sheet," the woman said. "I went back to give the girl her handkerchief and found the door locked. The girl was behind the locked door, dead, as I now know."

In charge of Deputy Sheriff Stark the mysterious woman was taken to Detroit last night.

When The Stomach Stops

Working Properly, Because There is Wind in It, Use Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets to Set It Going Again. A Trial Box Free.

THE DOCTORS call it flatulency, but unprofessional folks know it as "wind on the stomach," and a most distressing state of things it is. It is a serious condition of this great motor organ. Always annoying and painful in the extreme, at times often leading to bad and fatal results. The stomach embarrassed and hampered with wind, cannot take care of its food properly and indigestion follows, and this has a train too appalling to enumerate. The entire system is implicated—made an active or passive factor in this trouble and life soon becomes a questionable boon.

ALL THIS IS EXPLAINED in doctor books; how undigested food causes gases by fermentation and fomentation in which process some essential fluids are destroyed—burnt up—wasted by chemical action, followed by defective nutrition and the distribution through the alimentary tract of chemically wrong elements and as a consequence the stomach and entire system is starved. Plenty of food, you see, but spoilt in preparation and worse than worthless.

A DERANGED STOMACH is the epitome of evil; nothing too bad to emanate from it, but the gas it generates is probably its worst primary effect and the only way to do away with this is to remove the cause. STUART'S DYSPEPSIA TABLETS go to the root of this trouble. They attack the gas making foods and render them harmless. Flatulency or wind on the stomach simply cannot exist where these powerful and wonder-working little tablets are in evidence.

THEY WERE MADE for this very purpose to attack gas making foods and convert them into proper nutriment. This is their province and office. A whole book could be written about them and then not all told that might be told with profit to sufferers from this painful disease, dyspepsia. It would mention the years of patient and expensive experiment in effort to arrive at this result—of failures innumerable and at last success. It would make mention of the different stomach correctives that enter into this tablet and make it faithfully represent all.

STUART'S DYSPEPSIA TABLETS are not alone intended for the sick, but well folks as well; for the person who craves hearty foods and wants to eat heartily and run no risk of bad effects, they act like a charm and make eating and digestion a delight and pleasure. They keep the stomach active and energetic and able and willing to do extra work without special labor or effort. Don't forgot this. Well people are often neglected, but the STUART DYSPEPSIA TABLETS have them in mind.

A FREE TRIAL PACKAGE will be sent any one who wants to know just what they are, how they look and taste, before beginning treatment with them. After this go to the drug store for them; everywhere, here or at home, they are 50 cents a box and by getting them at home you will save time and postage. Your doctor will prescribe them; they say there are 40,000 doctors using them, but when you know what is the matter of yourself, why go to the expense of a prescription? For free trial package address F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Building, Marshall, Michigan.

P. S. Better send today for samples of the tablet. You will get quite a box of them.

IN THE THEATERS

RICH IN VILLAGE TYPES.

"Sag Harbor" Is Real Life Transferred to the Stage.

There is an infinite wealth of village types in "Sag Harbor," which Our Own Stock company is presenting this week at the Majestic, and the Herne success is merely the transferral of real life from the seacoast village to the stage. One is able for the most part to select from the range of his acquaintance folk who in large measure are the counterpart of Captain Dan Marble and the home folk who in "Sag Harbor" give us a story as sweet and as appealing as anything the American stage has seen in many years.

"Sag Harbor" will be seen for the last time in Fort Wayne Friday evening, making way on Saturday at the matinee only for a big farewell revival of "Charley's Aunt," in which Our Own Stock company will next week say good-by to Fort Wayne. Both "Sag Harbor" and "Charley's Aunt" rank high in point of merit, and the latter is expected to repeat its triumph of last season.

"THE PRINCE OF TONIGHT."

A transformation scene in a musical comedy is somewhat of an oddity, but in "The Prince of Tonight," which will be seen at the Majestic on Tuesday evening, the management border on the spectacular. The stage is filled with pretty girls, dancing girls and fairies, who pay homage to the mythical prince. To put this one scene on properly the management carry a score of carpenters, electricians, etc. Henry Woodruff, who plays the Prince, will be remembered for his excellent work in "Brown of Harvard."

FRANCIS WILSON NEXT WEEK.

In addition to being an author and a playwright, Francis Wilson is an enthusiastic art collector and his collection of modern Dutch paintings are considered as exceptionally fine. The pictures which are used in his new comedy, "The Bachelor's Baby," are reproductions of some of the gems from his own personal collection. Charles Frohman will present Francis Wilson in his new comedy, "The Bachelor's Baby," at the Majestic Thursday, December 2.

"ON TRIAL FOR HIS LIFE."

"On Trial for His Life," the new A. H. Woods production which comes to the Majestic on Dec. 3 and 4, is a melodrama of army life in the far southwest. It is said to contain more thrilling surprises and novelties than any other play of its kind offered to the public in years. The piece is in four acts and twelve scenes and is presented by a capable company of experienced players. The usual matinees will be given.

JEFFRIES-GOTCH COMBINATION.

The Majestic theater will be given over to the exponents of the manly art and wrestling bouts next Saturday evening when the James J. Jeffries-Gotch all-star gathering of athletic giants will appear. If there is any doubt in the minds of sporting gentlemen as to whether Jeffries is anywhere near shape to meet the Galveston ebony colored man, they had better pay the Majestic a visit and be convinced. There are promised some special novel features in this attraction.

AT THE LYRIC.

One of the cleverest labor playlets of the season is the one being presented at the Lyric this week by George Paul and Company entitled "Labor and the Man." The work of all the members of this company is very clever and they play their respective parts very good. The story of love and labor is pathetic and interesting.

"Princess Bonnie" Opera.

Preparations are assuming final shape for the coming production of the opera, "Princess Bonnie," which is to be presented at the Majestic Dec. 6 and 7 with a mixed chorus of seventy-five voices under the auspices of the Dudley Buck Male Chorus. Much interest is shown in all quarters in this event not only because it enlists some of the best musical and dramatic talent in the city, but also because one-half of the proceeds will be given to the Visiting Nurse League.

With Ronald Dawson in the role of Shrimps, the comedian, a genuine session of fun and laughter is assured. While at Purdue Mr. Dawson made an enviable reputation in college theatricals and since returning to Fort Wayne has been prominently identified with many of the amateur plays. He coached the high school pupils in their annual play a number of years. When the stock company began its work here, Mr. Dawson took the title role in its opening play, "The District Attorney." He is so full of contagious enthusiasm in his work that the entire chorus seems to become permeated with it whenever he appears on the stage.

Miss Edith Nickell in the role of Kitty, the coquettish summer girl with whom Shrimps is madly in love, is certain to prove a revelation to Fort Wayne admirers of the theater. Miss Nickell has been studying music and dramatic art at the New England Conservatory of Music at Boston for the past two years and has made the most of her marked natural talents for this line of work. Gifted with a voice of rare beauty and sweetness, coupled with a disposition very much in accord with her part, she is certain to make her role a notable one. The complete cast is as follows:

Shrimps.....Ronald Dawson
Capt. Tarpaulin.....Burns Douglass
Roy Sterling.....Clint Willson
Admiral Pomposa.....Paul Johnson
Count Falsetti.....Arthur Schreck
Salvador.....Wm. Schwartz
Capt. Surf.....K. M. Hollenbeck

CURED WITHOUT OPERATION.

I was ailing for 30 years, tried many doctors, ready-made remedies, mail treatment—everything without avail. Local physicians agreed there was no cure for me except the knife. I WAS ON MY WAY TO THE HOSPITAL when I read of Dr. Kowenstrot and was profoundly impressed with the superior skill of this expert who revealed my history so far back that I stood enchanted; described every ache, pain and symptoms better than I could. At a glance he read my complaint like an open book. Here was a revelation! His treatment and remedies were no less a surprise; not only different from any I ever had, but so effective as to make me think that the easiest task of all is the curing of chronic disease by these adepts. I am very grateful for what he did for me.

MRS. JOSEPH TEST,
831 West Main St., Fort Wayne.

SENSATIONAL CURE.

Every Tom, Dick and Harry gives medical advice, but some diseases awe even physicians and nurses into silence! Such was the malady of Mr. Louis Brown, a well-known veteran near Auburn, Ind. No one who saw him would believe he could be much benefited. His affection kept both hands and other parts in the shape of solid crusts, disabling him from the lightest work. He grasped vaunted remedies as the drowning clutch a straw. His suffering was indescribable and he was fast losing faith in Medical Science, when he consulted Dr. Kowenstrot, who removes the cause of chronic ailments instead of treating the symptoms, and thus restored Mr. Brown to the enjoyment of perfect health, than which there is nothing greater on this earth.

WE GUARANTEE CURES TO BE LASTING.

Mrs. Edward Snyder, 225 Main St., City, who had suffered for months from severe nervous trouble, says: "I certainly have improved very much under your treatment."

Through the very latest scientific researches, both by improved instruments and methods the doctor is enabled to discover the true nature of the disease and locate the organ or parts afflicted. Many diseases and complications which have hitherto proven most obstinate to the medical profession yield like magic under his skill and systematic treatment.

CATARRH IS THE FORERUNNER OF CONSUMPTION.

Mr. August Kehlenberg, of New Haven, Ind., a railroad man, says: "I was afflicted with stomach and bowel catarrh for some time, and during last summer the trouble became so bad that I had to lay off from work: I was weak and dizzy with constant pains in my head and body; tried different means of cure during this time, but obtained no benefit until I placed my case with Dr. B. J. Kowenstrot. The medical and electrical treatment I obtained at this famous establishment rapidly made me much better and I was soon able to take up my work. At this time I am feeling fine and am a well man again."

VARNELL GETS LINE OUT FOR A NEW CATCHER

Makes Offer for Man Living Near Fort Wayne—Suppresses Name.

Owner Claude H. Varnell made an offer yesterday for a catcher for the Fort Wayne club and if the price is accepted by the owners a new backstop will be added to the list and the team will be about ready to take the field as this will plug up all the holes except the place of manager, which is yet undecided.

Mr. Varnell does not want to make the name of the catcher known and his statement that he lives near Fort Wayne is the only clue he gives. One most promising catcher who was seen here in semi-professional games with the Shamrocks and who went to the northwest last season and who was bought by a major league club during the season is probably the man. He was looked upon then as a comer and his recent purchase proves the prediction of those who saw him in action that he would land in good company was a wise forecast.

The managerial question is still a rather tough proposition. An offer was made for Bade Myers but the Dayton people held his release at an exhorbitant price and the matter was dropped when Mr. Varnell purchased a good young first baseman. Then the figure demanded for another man that he sought put him out of his reach and he is now dickering for a third.

However, the owner is not letting any grass grow under his feet. He has gone into the market early and by a liberal expenditure has landed enough men to fill in his team. Recently he has received the records of the men he bought from Cincinnati and from the paper account of their performances he has purchased a band of stickers.

The most encouraging thing about them is that they are all young men on the way up and they can be expected to give better accounts of themselves than the old fellows from the majors. Then still another thing to give encouragement is that most of them are players who were bought before the drafting season was over which gives color to the statement that they are considered by the scouts to be the pick of the minors. The details compiled by "Louie" Heilbroner for the Cincinnati club and supplied to Varnell are as follows:

Delmar Young, drafted from the Youngstown club of the O.-P. league, 20 years old, 5 feet 10½, left-hand batter, right-hand thrower. Played third base the first part of the season and finished in the outfield. Third in league in batting.

Carl Manda, purchased from Lyons, Kansas State club; 19 years old, 5 feet 8 inches tall, right-hand thrower and batter. Was secured by Cincinnati on the recommendation of Charles Rigler, umpire in National league. Plays third or short.

Stanley, purchased from Hutchison, Kansas club of the Kansas State league; 5 feet 2½ inches tall, 21 years old, right-hand pitcher, finished last season with Utica, New York, club. Led league as pitcher and fielding pitcher.

Their records follow:

MAGNOLIAS WIN THE FINAL GAME BY 3 PINS

Streaked Bowling Marks the Work of Second League Teams.

The Magnolias won out by three pins in the final game of a weird series in the second Brunswick league last night. The team got off to a bad start when all of the men fell down in the opener while the H. O.'s were piling up pins and with the assistance of 222, rolled by Harry Dreibelbiss, won out by a big margin.

The Smokers went to the bad in the second while the Magnolias steamed up and the second conflict was a walkover for the losers of the first. In the third the men bowled a fair average, but the fight was not decided until the last pin was down. The scores follow:

HEYDLER IN FAVOR OF SPIKES.

National President Believes Abolition Would Mean Slow Game.

New York, Nov. 24.—John A. Heydler, president of the National league, is of opinion that a solution has not yet been reached in regard to the spikes worn by baseball players.

This will be one of the most important matters to be considered by the joint committee on rules at the meeting here next month. For a fast game of ball Heydler declares that spikes are necessary. He also believes that the proposition to prohibit players from sliding into a base feet first is impracticable.

"Some other solution is necessary," said President Heydler. "If we do away with spikes the game will necessarily be slow, and if we make players slide head first into a base more of them will be injured than if they slid feet first. But the many injuries through spiking necessitates a solution, and I believe it will be reached."

NATIONS MAY SAVE SEA GAME.

Fur Seal Commission to Seek International Protective Law.

Washington, Nov. 24.—An international game law for the protection of the mammals of the sea may result from efforts by this government to prevent the annihilation of fur seals. The president will be requested by the fur seal commission to invite Great Britain, Russia and Japan to join with the United States in a convention to consider regulations to prohibit pelagic sealing, and out of this convention an international law is expected which will protect not only fur seals, but whales, sea lions, walrus, sea elephants and other species of monsters of the deep now nearing extinction.

BOLAND WINS TWO GAMES.

During the day Boland, who was out of town last night when the Centilvres bowled their series, reported at the Brunswick and rolled his three games and, as a result the Centilvres took two of the series. In the first he rolled 158, in the second 186 and in the third he fell down and got only 132. This makes the Centilvre totals 851, 937 and 781.

"PENNSY" IS WORRIED OVER BEST SPRINTER.

"TEXAS" RAMSDELL, PENNSYLVANIAS SPRINTER

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 24.—Pennsylvania's star runner is Ramsdell, the Texan. He burst a blood vessel in his leg during practice not long ago, and since then his condition has been the source of much worry to "Mike" Murphy, who has worked with him incessantly in an endeavor to bring him back to his old-time shape.

Whether or not Murphy will succeed is what is troubling the coaches now, for while they gave up all hope of Ramsdell being able to play football again this season, they are anxious that he should suffer no permanent injury.

Should Ramsdell be unable to run this spring his loss would prove a serious one to the track team, for he is counted upon to be a great help in the sprints and quarter mile. Last summer the big Texan established a new mark for the 100 metres race, and is considered one of the fastest sprinters in the country. He has a record of 9 4-5 seconds for the century, and 21 3-5 seconds for the furlong, and is looked upon as the only rival of Foster, of Harvard, for the sprinting championships in the inter-collegiates this spring.

With Ramsdell, Minds and Hough, "Mike" Murphy thought he had a trio of short distance runners that would make records fall in the coming big meets. With Ramsdell out of the running, the speed of the other two would probably be affected and the track team considerably weakened.

FRIARS WORKING TO WIN THEIR GAME TOMORROW

They Will Present a Lot of New Plays in the Football Game.

The football team from the Friars club will make its first appearance in Fort Wayne at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon when it tackles Huntington at League park for what is expected to be a hard gridiron battle. The local men have one defeat to wipe out and while they might have picked up a team that hasn't as much strength as the Lima City eleven a club was selected for the game with a view of giving a good exhibition.

Fred Eggeman, captain of the Purdue eleven and one of the best men in the state, will be home from college for Thanksgiving and an effort is being made to secure him as one of the officials for the game.

Last night the Friars worked out for two hours and they say that they have some new plays to spring on Huntington tomorrow. These include plays in the new open game, which has never been seen in Fort Wayne and a few at the old style which are expected to win the big battle.

At Wabash and Huntington the players and spectators agreed that Fort Wayne presented the fastest backfield that had been in either of the cities during the season and the team has made an excellent impression in its games so far this year.

It is likely the last chance the public will have to see football this season as the ball park was obtained only after strong objections had been overcome and in response to a big petition sent to Owner Claude H. Varnell.

WILL PLAY AT VAN WERT.

The Centilvres will play at Van Wert tonight with the alley expenses and a supper to follow the game as prizes. The men who will make the trip are Frank J. Mills, Eddie Sander, William Dreibelbiss, Charles Merz and Frank Hills.

Good Cough Medicine for Children and Grown Folks, Too.

"We could hardly do without Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," says Mrs. Flora Despain, of Bloyd, Ky. "I found it to be so good for the croup and have used it for years. I can heartily recommend it for coughs, colds and croup in children and grown folks, too." The above shows the implicit confidence that many mothers place in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, a confidence based on many years' experience in the use of it. No one need hesitate to use this remedy for it contains no chloroform, opium or other narcotics and may be given to a child as confidently as to an adult. For sale by all druggists.

An electric curling iron heater, in which a circuit is made with a resistance coil when a coin is dropped in a slot, is a recent invention for use in hotels and other public places.

WHAT WOULD YOU DO?

In case of a burn or scald what would you do to relieve the pain? Such injuries are liable to occur in any family and everyone should be prepared for them. Chamberlain's Salve applied on a soft cloth will relieve the pain almost instantly, and unless the injury is a very severe one, will cause the parts to heal without leaving a scar. For sale by all druggists.

BOWLER SUBMITS TO OPERATION AT HOSPITAL

Harry Hamilton Out of Game and Club is Short a Man.

Owing to the fact that Harry Hamilton, of the Centilvre team, is in a hospital recovering from an operation for appendicitis, the club was only able to muster four men last night as Boland was out of the city and an agreement was reached by which the men present rolled and when Boland returns he will shoot three games which will decide who gets the series.

The four men made a good showing, but the Fox Brothers were in trim and the games were interesting. They will not be awarded finally until Boland has decided into which club they belong. His task is not a very difficult one as he can win with 142 in the first game, 64 in the second and 152 in the third. These figures are way below his usual average. Merz and Robert Fox were the high average men in the games. The scores:

HOWARD WIGGAM IN TOWN.

Danville Wrestler Arrives for Bout With Murbarger.

Howard Wiggam, of Danville, Ill., who is to meet Sam Murbarger, of Fort Wayne, in the main event at the wrestling show in Saengerbund hall tomorrow night, arrived in Fort Wayne today. He is looking fine and declared himself fit for the hard battle he expects at the hands of the local mat artist. There has been a good seat sale and the event, which is the first of indoor athletic sports of the season, promises to be well patronized. Buttermore and Lawson, who will go on for the other main event, are expected to give as fast an exhibition as has ever been seen here. The battle royal between four or five colored artists, and more if they can be secured, will furnish the comedy feature of what cards as really good show.

GREENBACK LEADER IS DEAD.

Turner, Me., Nov. 24.—Solon Chase, a celebrated figure in the days of the greenback agitation of thirty years ago, died of heart failure at his home at Chase's Mills late yesterday. He was 87 years old. During the height of the greenback campaign Chase stumped the country as far as the middle west, driving a pair of steers hitched to a hayrack, from the rear end of which he delivered his speeches. He was also the publisher of Chase's Chronicle, a greenback organ.

JOE CANTILLION GOT BACK AT ROOTERS

When the All-Americans and All-Nationals were touring the west in a series of exhibition games in the fall of 1902, the teams finally drifted into Denver for a couple of games.

The first contest, which was played on a Saturday, resulted in a victory for the National League club after ten innings of as fine baseball as anyone could wish to see, writes Addie Joss.

This served to draw out a good crowd for the Sunday fray. Bernhard and Donovan were the opposing pitchers in this contest and right from the start it was evident that the American leaguers were going to have considerable trouble in finding "Wild Bill."

The Tiger star was going in great shape, having speed to burn, and this, coupled with the fact that it was dark, made him that much tougher to hit.

Bill was averaging nearly two strikeouts to the inning and some of the fans began to think they were being treated to a swell piece of hippodroming.

Joe Cantillon, who was umpiring, was beginning to get a little peeved at some of the remarks that were hurled at the players and especially at him, as he was the man who had chosen the teams that represented the leagues on the trip.

Emil Frisk, who previous to this time had been on several teams in the major leagues and had proven that he was not quite fast enough for that company, was then a member of the Denver club.

Frisk was always a good hitter and after joining the Denver team had swatted the ball so hard in the Western league that he easily led the company in this respect.

The fans kept on yelling at Joe with remarks something like this: "What's the matter, Joe? Did you pick out a lot of your friends to take this trip? It's a cinch you did not get the best players."

Finally one fan in a loud voice yelled: "Send for Frisk. He will show you how to hit Donovan."

This was just a little more than Joe could stand, and running over to the bleachers he asked: "You fellows think Frisk is a great hitter, don't you?"

"You bet we do," came the answer.

"And you are glad he's on your team, ain't you? Well," continued Cantillon, as he received several affirmative replies, "just thank those fellows who are pitching out there for that, as they are the gentlemen who sent him back to you."

S.S.S. THE REMEDY FOR SORES AND ULCERS

There is but one way to cure an old sore or chronic ulcer, and that is to remove the cause that produces and keeps it open. No matter where located, any sore that remains until it becomes chronic does so because of impure blood; the circulation constantly discharges its polluted matter into the place and it is impossible for nature to heal the sore. S.S.S. heals sores and ulcers by purifying the blood. It removes every trace of taint or impurity from the circulation, and thus completely does away with the cause. No local application reaches below the infected flesh at the spot and for this reason can have no curative effect on a sore or ulcer; while such treatment is being used alone, the germs and impurities are constantly increasing in the blood and the sore is bound to grow worse. When S.S.S. has cleansed the blood and enriched and purified the circulation the place begins to take on a more healthy appearance, the different symptoms show improvement, the flesh around the ulcer gets firm, new skin and tissues are formed, and aided by pure, rich blood, nature provides a perfect and lasting cure. Under the tonic and blood-purifying effects of S.S.S., the system is built up, and those whose health has been impaired by the drain and worry of an old sore will be greatly benefited by its use. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice free to all who write.

MAN OF 70 OWES SKIN COMFORT TO CUTICURA

"I am a man seventy years old. My hands were very sore and cracked open on the insides for over a year with large sores. They would crack open and bleed, itch, burn and ache so that I could not sleep and could do but little work. They were so bad that I could not dress myself in the morning. They would bleed and the blood dropped on the floor. I called on two doctors, but they did me no good. I could get nothing to do me any good till I got the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. About a year ago my daughter got a cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment and in one week from the time I began to use them my hands were all healed up and they have not been a little sore since. I would not be without the Cuticura Remedies.

"They also cured a bad sore on the hand of one of my neighbor's children; and they think very highly of the Cuticura Remedies. John W. Hasty, So. Effingham, N. H., Mar. 5 and Apr. 11, '09."

MEANS OF AVOIDING USUAL HOLIDAY BLAZES

Local Electrical Inspector Ready to Advise With Merchants.

With a view to promote safe electrical wiring in connection with inflammable Christmas displays, E. E. Siler, the local electrical inspector for the Indiana inspection bureau, has addressed a communication to the merchants, inviting them to advise with him as to the proper precautions to be observed in the preparation of their holiday decorations and displays.

According to the electrical inspector, defective electrical construction at this season of the year is apt to result seriously on account of the great amount of combustible material exposed. For this reason many cities, which have suffered from experiences of this nature, have adopted stringent rules governing the installation of such displays, and prohibit the use of cotton batting and other highly inflammable material in connection herewith.

While the protection of the shoppers, against the danger of fire and panic, is naturally a question of prime importance, the evil effect, which a panic scare might have upon Christmas trading, would appear to furnish an additional reason (if a selfish one) for the active co-operation of all merchants with the electrical inspector in his efforts to prevent dangerous installations.

GETS AID IN ELECTRIC INQUIRY.

Department of Justice Enlists the Bureau of Corporations.

Washington, Nov. 24.—The department of justice, investigating the electrical trust with a view to prosecution under the Sherman anti-trust law, enlisted the support of the bureau of corporations, which already has turned over to the lawyers of the government evidence establishing the connection of the General Electric company and the Westinghouse company with the "water power trust."

Former Attorney General Bonaparte vouched for the accuracy of the letter published Sunday, in which President Roosevelt urged him to press the investigation "whether —— —— clients contributed a million dollars for the election of Taft or a million dollars for the election of Bryan, or whether they failed to contribute a cent to either side." Mr. Bonaparte said:

"The letter as published is correct and authentic.

"I was approached by certain gentlemen who represented to me that the electrical investigation was damaging business interests. They urged that the country could ill afford such investigations at that time."

WELLMAN GREETS R. E. PEARY.

Explorer Congratulates Commander at Press Club Meeting.

Washington, Nov. 24.—Commander Robert E. Peary was the guest of the National Press club yesterday. Many members of the club were present to congratulate the explorer upon the accomplishment of the dream of centuries. He made a brief address, in which he laid emphasis upon the work of the Peary Arctic club of New York, stating that that club had made possible the conquest of the pole.

Walter Wellman, who has just returned from Paris and is a member of the National Press club, congratulated Commander Peary, and the greeting of the two was hearty.

It was the first meeting of the explorers since Peary's return from the pole and the occasion did not offer opportunity for an extended talk. The members of the Press club noticed the meeting with applause.

MR. STEVENS BANQUETED.

President of C. & O, Guest of Honor at Dinner Party.

W. S. Morris was host at a dinner party at the Anthony today, given in honor of George W. Stevens, president of the Chesapeake and Ohio road, who is visiting in the city. There were fifteen or twenty guests, all old acquaintances and friends of Mr. Stevens, and reminiscences of old times were exchanged freely around the table. Mr. Stevens is the guest of Gus Rabus, one of his old friends. Years ago, before the division terminal of the Wabash was moved from this city to Peru, Mr. Stevens was superintendent of the eastern division, with headquarters in this city and he has a wide acquaintance here. He left the Wabash shortly after the terminals were established at Peru and was soon afterwards made president of the Chesapeake and Ohio. Mr. Morris was superintendent of motive power of the Chesapeake and Ohio a number of years and during his entire term of service was associated with Mr. Stevens in railroad work.

SURPRISED BY SHOPMATES.

Frank J. Burns Unexpectedly Celebrated Anniversary.

Twenty-five years ago yesterday Frank J. Burns, then a lad in his teens, began an apprenticeship in the Pennsylvania machine shop and he has been continuously in the employ of the company since, though he has made a few changes in the positions he occupied. He is now assistant round house foreman, an office he has filled about ten years. After completing his apprenticeship Mr. Burns worked as a journeyman machinist only a short time, being appointed to gang foreman in the erecting shop and going thence to his present position. Frank is quite popular with his shopmates and they took advantage of the opportunity last night to show their feeling toward him, when they assembled at his home about forty strong and presented him with a few tokens of their esteem, included being a fine automobile coat. Peter Goda, one of the assistant foremen at the round house, acted as spokesman for "the boys" and presented the garment to their host. Mrs. Burns was taken into the plot and had prepared a magnificent dinner for her husband and his guests. In addition to the men at the round house, there were a number of ladies and gentlemen, neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Burns, present. Music was furnished by the round house orchestra and was thoroughly enjoyed by all. Mr. and Mrs. Burns reside at 128 East Williams street.

PRESIDENT LEE TALKS.

Says Brotherhoods are Preparing to Back Up Demands.

W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, has issued a signed statement regarding the demands of the railroad employes for increased wages, in which he says that the wage movement will take definite form early in 1910. Since the convention of the Eastern division of the B. R. T., held in Boston, the yardmen at Chicago have asked for an increase, giving the railroads thirty days in which to answer the demands. The time will expire December 3, and a meeting of the Brotherhood will be held in Chicago at that time to hear the report. President Lee is quoted as saying that "the Chicago yardmen will either get what they ask for or a fight will be inaugurated. As Chicago is the rate-making center for the yardmen of the entire country, the action of the railroads there will have great influence over the entire movement for higher wages."

President Lee says the advance in the cost of living is out of proportion to the advance in wages, and that the men are entitled to an increase. He says the unions are now voting on the question of an increase throughout the Eastern division, which includes the territory east of Chicago to the Atlantic coast.

NEW PASSENGER ENGINES.

Two Big Passenger "Flyers" Reach Fort Wayne.

Passenger engine No. 7960 reached the city yesterday and No. 7961 arrived today and will soon be in passenger service on the Western division of the Pennsylvania. These engines are of the E-2-B Atlantic type, the highest grade of passenger locomotives, and were built at the Juniata shops of the Pennsylvania. They were the first of ten engines of a similar pattern that are to be delivered to the Northwest system.

BELLEVUE AUXILIARY HERE.

The following ladies from Bellevue, members of Autumn Leaf division, auxiliary to the O. R. Horton, J. Schachtele, C. N. Gibson, Frank Stebbins, C. N. Markell, G. L. Guthrie, J. D. Best, J. F. Herriger, Wm. McMichael and Wm. A. Brady. Mrs. Deahl resided in Bellevue some years ago, when her late husband was a passenger conductor on the Nickel Plate, and she was held in the highest esteem by the residents of that city. She was also a member of the Order of the Eastern Star of Bellevue. The Bellevue ladies returned to their home city on the Nickel Plate train which left Fort Wayne at 8:30 last evening.

TO ENTERTAIN COMRADES.

Sherman Cutshall Plans Banquet for Friends.

Saturday evening, December 18, W. Sherman Cutshall, who soon retires from a position in the Pennsylvania motive power office he has held a dozen or more years, to take up the duties of city controller, will give a stag party at which the guests will be his office comrades, about twenty in number. The affair will take place at Mr. Cutshall's home, 202 East Williams street, and it will be one of the most pleasant of several similar events the motive power men have enjoyed. Mr. Cutshall is a good entertainer.

THUMB CRUSHED IN GEAR.

F. A. Mosher got his right thumb mixed up with the cog gearing of a machine in the Pennsylvania boiler shop yesterday and the digit was pretty badly pinched. It was not taken off, however, and Mr. Mosher is congratulating himself over that fact. He will be disabled a week or more.

IMPRISONED IN CAR TWO DAYS.

Baltimore and Ohio detectives removed a seventeen-year-old boy, who gave his name as Willie Mainy, from a car in a train which arrived at Garrett last Monday. Mainy says he lives in Pittsburg and works for the United States Steel company; that he and a number of his companions were drunk last Saturday and that while in that condition the other boys put him in the car and closed the door. He felt asleep and when he awoke he found that he was being carried somewhere, but did not know where. Every time the car stopped he pounded on the door and called for help, but failed to attract attention until Garrett was reached.

TRACK NEARLY COMPLETED.

Workmen today made connection between the Lake Erie and Western and the Nickel Plate tracks at the Indiana Road Machine works and as soon as the switch is in at the junction of the siding and the Nickel Plate cars can be run from one road to the other, starting on the Nickel Plate at a point about fifty yards east of Mechanic's street and making connection with the Lake Erie and Western near Main street. This additional siding will greatly facilitate loading and unloading freight at the Indiana Road Machine works and the Horton Manufacturing company's plant. The switch will be put in in a few days, as soon as it arrives.

FROM SHOP TO FARM.

H. H. Matthewson, who came from the country thirteen years ago to take a position in the Pennsylvania planing mills and has worked there since, resigned today to take up farm work again. He has taken a lease upon a valuable farm near Toledo and is getting ready to move his family upon it. He is a good fellow and his shopmates regret his departure.

SENT ENGINE TO ALTOONA.

The Pennsylvania has sent three or four of its engines from this division to the big shops at Altoona for heavy boiler repairs, on account of the boiler department of the local shops having more than it can do. The Pennsylvania Railroad's New Tunnel in New York

New York, Nov. 24.—The first passenger train made a successful trip through the new tunnels of the Pennsylvania railroad a few days ago, thus realizing another marvelous feat in engineering. The train went under the North and East rivers, and passed from New Jersey to Long Island without the intervention of ferry transportation. Mr. James McCrea, president and all the directors of the Pennsylvania Railroad company, leaving Philadelphia at nine o'clock by special train, made the trip through the tunnels and inspected the terminals of the road in this city. The party passed under the two rivers in Mr. McCrea's private car, being pushed through the tubes by a coke burning locomotive of the pattern to be used in hauling all passenger trains of the road through the tunnels until the electric plant, which is to be the permanent motive power in the tubes, is in operation.

WETZELL TOOK COAL TO KEEP BABES WARM

Was Out of Fuel and Had No Money to Buy It With.

Ernest Wetzell, a laborer living in the Leikauf building, on Wells street, confessed in the city court this morning that he had stolen coal from a car in the yards of the Kanugh Coal company, but said that he had no money and he needed the fuel to keep his three children warm. His wife was put on the stand and she said he works whenever he can get work, does not drink and takes all of his money home and gives it to her for the support of the family.

He was fined $1 and costs and sentenced to thirty days, but the fine and sentence were both suspended, and while Judge Skelton tried to impress upon the prisoner that it is wrong to steal coal, his voice did not ring with sincerity.

Wetzell seemed an honest sort of a fellow and he said that he receives twenty cents an hour when he works and if he has steady employment he can make $10.40 a week, with which he has to feed and clothe four people. He also said that he had bought coal from the company on last Thursday and used the last of it last night and that he simply went out to get a sack full to tide him over until tomorrow, when he expected some money with which he intended to buy fuel.

The youngest of the children is eighteen months old and it came to a point where the father had either to apply for alms or steal a little coal, and he chose the latter course.

Keever Case Dismissed.

Jack Bennett, who stated that he drank beer at the Ross house and was robbed of $40 and who filed an affidavit against Nora Keever, was not in court this morning when the case against the woman was called for trial and Deputy Prosecutor Harry Hilgemann dismissed it. He said that his other witness and the one he relied most upon had moved away from town and practically destroyed his evidence.

Minnie Rhodes Fined.

Minnie Rhodes, the negro accused of stealing $9 from Albert Sheets, entered a plea of guilty and was fined $10 and costs and given six months in jail. The jail sentence was suspended on her promise to leave the city at once and stay away. A brother came here from Detroit and arranged to pay the fine, but none of Sheets' money was returned to him.

COLONEL THOMPSON HERE.

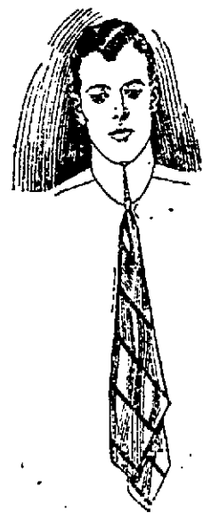

Col. R. G. Thompson, district passenger agent of the Wabash, is making a trip over this part of his territory and dropped into Fort Wayne this morning and spent the day shaking hands with his numerous friends and soliciting some business for the company. He has not lost interest in his friends in this city, however, and embraces every opportunity to see them.

AT THE TEMPLE.

You may think you have seen conductors that are odd and queer or eccentric, but never has one appeared in this city like Gennaro, at the head of his twenty Gondolier musicians. When all is going well he faces the audience and smiles, but a second later he rushes at the poor flutist and shows an array of teeth that would some day send Roosevelt back to the board of aldermen. The entire bill at the Temple this week is giving immense satisfaction.

THE MARKETS

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago Market.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 24.—Unfavorable harvesting weather in Argentine caused moderate strength in the wheat market at the start today but the volume of trading was not large owing to the impending holiday tomorrow. The market opened firm with prices a shade to ⅜c higher than the previous close, December being at $1.08⅞ and May at $1.06⅜ to $1.06⅝. Early in the day the December delivery advanced to $1.09¼ and May to $1.06⅝@1.06¾.

STOCKS AND BONDS.

The Day on Wall Street.

New York, Nov. 24.—Business in stocks at the opening today was not large and the price movement showed some hesitation. There were good recoveries in the coppers with running sales of six thousand shares of Amagamated Copper at 90¼ and 90, compared with 89½ last night. This gain was lost within a few minutes. Utah Copper and United States Rubber rose. Reading ran off a point and New York Central ⅜.

Continuous selling of New York Central together with the realizing in the copper stocks made the market heavy. Reading encountered supporting orders when it reached 168 and it was pushed up at intervals, touching 170¼. The pressure on New York Central, which lost 2¾, was the greeting to the new issue of stock at par to stockholders. United States Steel and Amalgamated Copper declined 1 and United States Realty 1¼. A few stocks moved independently on the general course of prices for a time, Consolidated Gas going up 1½, Rock Island preferred 1⅝, National Biscuit 1¼ and North American 1. At 11 o'clock Reading was rising briskly and some recovery was also made by other stocks.

The rise of 2½ in Reading gave some strength to the rest of the list, which showed a few rallies of a point. The coppers and New York Central then fell back to the low point. Great Northern preferred and St. Louis Southwestern preferred gained 1 point and St. Louis & San Francisco second preferred and American Cotton Oil preferred 2. Vulcan Detinning fell 2, Iowa Central preferred 2 and Utah Copper 1. Bonds were irregular.

Heavy buying for both accounts continued in Reading and its upward rise was not impeded until it had reached 172. Profit taking then lowered it a point, and the rest of the list also ran off. American Locomotive and Anaconda Mining sagged a point and Wabash preferred 1½. New York Central weakened afresh to 127½.

New York Central dropped 4½ to 127, Wabash preferred, Amalgamated Copper and American Car 2, American Locomotive 1, General Electric 1¼ and Union Pacific, Chesapeake & Ohio, Denver & Rio Grande, American Sugar, American Smelter, Louisville & Nashville and Colorado Fuel 1. There was a subsequent slight rally when Southern Pacific was bid up a point over yesterday's closing.

The market closed heavy and unsettled. Union Pacific rose a fraction higher than before and Amalgamated Copper recovered strongly to a fraction over last night. Illinois Central, Great Northern Ore Certificates and Tennessee Copper gained 1 and United States Steel preferred declined 1. The general movement was irregular but towards recovery.

FORBES TAKES OATH OF OFFICE.

New Governor-General of Philippines Is Inaugurated.

Manila, Nov. 24.—In the marble hall of the Ayuntamienle, once used for conference by the Spanish authorities and now the chamber of the popular assembly, at 10:30 o'clock this morning W. Cameron Forbes, of Massachusetts, took the oath of office as governor-general of the Philippines and delivered his inaugural address. He is the fifth and youngest governor-general.

Governor Forbes dedicated his administration to the advancement of the people and country and declared that the country's greatest need was capital. He counselled Americans and Filipinos to unite jointly to strive for the advancement of the islands, quoting figures to show that the per capita production in the Philippines is far behind that of Porto Rico and Hawaii.

The governor outlined an extensive program of public improvements, including roads, irrigation, rivers and harbors. He read the original McKinley instructions and declared that they had been fully carried out, the United States only retaining a necessary strong central control.

Following the address Governor Forbes held a reception. The inaugural ball will take place tonight.

We have any number of Warner's Corsets—made in the latest hipless mode and we guarantee that these corsets, regardless of what size woman you are, will give you curveless lines—which is the figure fashion.

HELD AS PARTNER IN ROBBERY.

Waiter Arrested at Terre Haute on Bank Raider's Confession.

Terre Haute, Ind., Nov. 24.—George Chandler Graves, a waiter at the Hotel University at St. Louis, was arrested last night as the companion of Clyde Simpson, the Big Four train dispatcher in Terre Haute, in the attempted holdup of the North Manchester, Ohio, bank, and today was taken there to join Simpson, who made a confession Sunday night.

Another attempt at holding up a bank was to have been made today in a town near Indianapolis, it is alleged. Graves was to arrive here in the morning, it is said, and go on to Indianapolis with Simpson. Graves had been a waiter in Terre Haute for several years and the police believe that he and Simpson had a part in many holdups.

$3,000,000 OF ABDUL'S TIED UP.

Only Deposed Sultan's Seal Can Get Funds From German Bank.

Berlin, Nov. 24.—The Imperial Bank of Germany holds some $3,000,000 deposited by Abdul Hamid before he was deposed from the sultanship of Turkey and which, according to the Frankfurter Zeitung, the present Ottoman ruler proposes to recover through a legal action.

The Imperial bank is willing to surrender the money if the order for it is authenticated by the special seal adopted by the former sultan when the deposit was made, and without which the bank agreed to refuse to give up the funds.

The Turkish government was not aware of this deposit until recently. Subsequently Abdul signed an order on the bank for the money, but his signature was not accompanied with the seal.

LIBERAL CATHOLICS IN A MOVE.

Oppose Active Participation of Church in French Elections.

Paris, Nov. 24.—The more liberal section of the French episcopate, headed by Archbishop Turinase of Nancy, are beginning to question the wisdom of the militant section, who favor the formation of a league of Catholic voters in the coming elections. Instead, the former advocate a broader union, which shall include, with the Catholics, other conservative forces.

Archbishop Buzet of Rouen, while indorsing the idea that the Catholics must make their influence felt in the elections, in order gradually to recover what they have lost, has expressed outspoken opposition to any active intervention by the church in politics, arguing that the great mass of the country is republican and that the mere suspicion that the movement aims to change the constitutional regime would be fatal.

CHRISTY FOUND; GIRL GONE.

Fleeing Artist, in Indianapolis, Spirits Daughter From Officer's Reach.

Indianapolis, Nov. 24.—Howard Chandler Christy, the New York artist against whom habeas corpus proceedings for the possession of his daughter were filed by his wife at Zanesville, Ohio, last Friday, is in Indianapolis. When an attempt was made to serve papers for the possession of Natalie, his ten-year-old daughter, the child could not be found. Mr. Christy, who has carefully concealed his presence here, said last night concerning the disappearance of the girl:

"My automobile traveled just a little too fast for the officer. It's a hard life to be dodging around, but just the same I don't propose to let them turn the trick on me."

DECIDES CASE IN TOBACCO WAR.

Receiver Is Appointed for Money Held by Burley Society.

Winchester, Ky., Nov. 24.—Circuit Judge Benton yesterday announced his decision to appoint a receiver for a sum of money approximating $346,000 now in the hands of the Burley Tobacco and Insurance company.

The decision is of far-reaching importance to tobacco growers, and possibly involves the future of the company, recently incorporated and capitalized at $2,000,000.

The growers alleged that $346,000 of the proceeds of the pooling and sale of the combined crops of 1906 and 1907 had been illegally retained by the Burley society, a co-operative association, from which the Burley Tobacco and Insurance company sprang.

Timme and Construction Superintendent John Drissell, of the Kenosha Electric Railway company, to appear in court Friday morning and show cause why they should not be punished for contempt.

The officials of the railway company are charged with violating an injunction issued by the court in July. The writ was secured by a competing company, which alleged that the Kenosha Electric Railway company was interfering with its business.

Kentucky Couple Dying in Hospital at Richmond.

Richmond, Ky., Nov. 24.—Oscar Osborn and his wife are in a hospital both fatally wounded as a result of shots fired by Osborn last night, when he fatally wounded his wife and attempted suicide.

The shooting of Mrs. Osborn and attempt of her husband to commit suicide occurred on the main street of the town, Mrs. Osborn having come in from the country estate of the Osborns to do some shopping. The Osborns, who are wealthy, had been separated for about two months.

Carvers for Thanksgiving

A keen, healthy appetite should be the victim of no delays.

Get a Russell Carver

Then the turkey will be served easily and quickly in thin, even slices.

Every blade is pounded out, one by one, from a solid bar of crucible steel.

The more hammering the better the blade. That is why a Lander's carver holds the cutting edge longer and requires less sharpening than those made from flat steel.

Ask to see our line of carvers when in the store.
